

BEUMER CORPORATION EMPLOYEE HANDBOOK

ABOUT THIS HANDBOOK

THE CONTENTS OF THIS HANDBOOK ARE GUIDELINES ONLY AND SUPERSEDE ANY PRIOR HANDBOOK. NEITHER THIS HANDBOOK NOR ANY OTHER COMPANY GUIDELINES, POLICIES OR PRACTICES CREATE AN EMPLOYMENT CONTRACT. THE COMPANY HAS THE RIGHT, WITH OR WITHOUT NOTICE, IN AN INDIVIDUAL CASE OR GENERALLY, TO CHANGE ANY OF ITS GUIDELINES, POLICIES, PRACTICES, WORKING CONDITIONS OR BENEFITS AT ANY TIME.

NO ONE IS AUTHORIZED TO PROVIDE ANY EMPLOYEE WITH AN EMPLOYMENT CONTRACT OR SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT CONCERNING TERMS OR CONDITIONS OF EMPLOYMENT UNLESS THE CONTRACT OR ARRANGEMENT IS IN WRITING AND SIGNED BY THE CEO. EMPLOYMENT WITH THE COMPANY IS AT-WILL AND MAY BE TERMINATED AT ANY TIME WITH OR WITHOUT CAUSE OR NOTICE BY THE EMPLOYEE OR THE COMPANY.

THIS NOTICE APPLIES TO ALL EMPLOYEES REGARDLESS OF DATE OF HIRE.

Message from the People and Culture team

Welcome to the BEUMER Group. On behalf of nearly 4,500 colleagues worldwide, we would like to thank you for your decision to be part of our team. Each employee contributes directly to our success and continued growth—and to that of our customers—and we hope that you will take great pride in being a productive member of the BEUMER Group.

This Employee Handbook helps you become acquainted with our company and sets forth general expectations of BEUMER employees. Additionally, the Handbook outlines policies and programs, as well as benefits that are available to eligible employees. We invite and encourage you to familiarize yourself with the Handbook, as it will answer many questions that you might have about your employment with BEUMER. Should you have questions or need clarification, please feel free to speak with your manager or a People and Culture representative.

Our employees are our most valuable asset. Your success is our success. We hope that your work experience with BEUMER will be challenging, enjoyable, and rewarding.

Sincerely,
Your People & Culture team

Company History

In 1977, BEUMER Corporation was incorporated in the State of Delaware as a wholly-owned subsidiary of the BEUMER Group. A leader in the design and supply of material handling systems, BEUMER Corporation addresses the needs of a North American customer base that includes most industrial and service sectors. BEUMER Corporation is responsible for sales, engineering, installation, project management, local manufacturing, service and customer support across the United States, Canada, Mexico, Central America and the Caribbean.

BEUMER Corporation serves as the central function for the entire BEUMER North America operation, which is comprised of a group of subsidiaries including BEUMER Corporation, BEUMER Group Canada Corporation, BEUMER de Mexico and BEUMER Lifecycle Management, LLC.

BEUMER North America has four main operating divisions: Conveying & Loading, Palletizing & Packaging, Logistics Systems, and Airport Baggage Handling. These four divisions provide local service and customer support for all BEUMER machines and systems, with dedicated personnel in the mechanical, electrical, and controls functions.

BEUMER is proud of its worldwide reputation as a quality and technology leader, which is validated by continuous R&D refinement and investment, and a large percentage of repeat business and customer satisfaction. BEUMER's automated material handling solutions can be found at the heart of the world's biggest brands, in every major industry.

Mission Statement

The BEUMER Group is a technologically innovative family-owned company that has maintained its independence for more than 80 years and is achieving a controlled growth through BEUMER Group's global presence.

The guiding principle of our company: "Not short-term profit, but long-term success" has proven successful and will continue to be our objective in the future.

"6 Rules" of the BEUMER Group

- We are looking for the long-term success and not for the short-term profit.
- We want to maintain the family-owned business status.
- The shareholders give company interests priority over family interests.
- We want to ensure the independence from banks also in the future.
- We act as quality leader on the market also in the future.
- In the development of our global activities, the risks shall be spread in the way that single erroneous trends do not affect the whole enterprise.

The BEUMER Group Leadership Principles

- We treat each other with trust, respect, and fairness.
- We strive for performance.
- We think and act as BEUMER Group.
- We make others successful.
- We promote two-way feedback.
- We create transparency in our business.
- We take ownership.
- We stick to our common targets and guidelines.
- We lead with a long-term perspective.

The BEUMER Group Core Values

Integrity and Ethics

We apply the highest ethical standards towards our customers, business partners, employees, and the community. We value different cultures in our global group as a learning experience and try to build a working environment where everybody respects one's uniqueness.

Customer Focus

We show the level of responsiveness, sense of urgency, and commitment our customers require and need. We won't make promises that we can't keep and will always deliver on the promises that we make.

Quality and Innovation

Quality Leadership drives our pursuit of excellence in our work, business processes, products, services, and in the quality of customer outcomes. Innovation defines our future and is the basis of cost-advantaged technology leadership that creates superior value for our stakeholders.

Teamwork

We respect our employees' ideas and beliefs and encourage them to take pride and ownership in their actions. We create a winning environment that challenges our employees and helps them grow professionally as well as personally.

Sustainability

We commit to the idea of sustainability in the sense of balance between ecology, economy, and social responsibility. We exceed the "Total Cost of Ownership" (TCO) approach and offer "Total Value of Ownership" (TVO) to our customers.

The Way We Work

A Word About This Handbook

This Employee Handbook contains information about the employment policies and practices of the company. We expect each employee to read this Employee Handbook carefully, as it is a valuable reference for understanding your job and the company. The policies outlined in this Employee Handbook should be regarded as management guidelines only, which in a developing business will require changes from time to time. The company retains the right to make decisions involving employment as needed in order to conduct its work in a manner that is beneficial to the employees and the company. This Employee Handbook supersedes and replaces any and all prior Employee Handbooks and inconsistent verbal or written policy statements. Except for the company's at-will employment policy, which can only be changed by a specific written agreement with an employee signed by the CEO of the company, the company reserves the right to revise, delete and add to the provisions of this Employee Handbook. No oral statements or representations can change the provisions of this Employee Handbook. Nor is this Employee Handbook intended to create a contract guaranteeing that you will be employed for any specific time period.

OUR COMPANY IS AN AT-WILL EMPLOYER. THIS MEANS THAT EITHER YOU OR THE COMPANY MAY TERMINATE THE EMPLOYMENT RELATIONSHIP AT ANY TIME, FOR ANY REASON, WITH OR WITHOUT CAUSE OR NOTICE. NOTHING IN THIS EMPLOYEE HANDBOOK OR IN ANY DOCUMENT OR STATEMENT, WRITTEN OR ORAL, SHALL LIMIT THE RIGHT TO TERMINATE EMPLOYMENT AT-WILL. NO OFFICER, EMPLOYEE OR REPRESENTATIVE OF THE COMPANY OTHER THAN THE CEO IS AUTHORIZED TO ENTER INTO AN AGREEMENT—EXPRESS OR IMPLIED—WITH ANY EMPLOYEE FOR EMPLOYMENT OTHER THAN ON AN AT-WILL BASIS.

This Employee Handbook refers to current benefit plans maintained by the company. Refer to the actual plan documents and summary plan descriptions if you have specific questions regarding the benefit plan. Those documents are controlling.

If there are discrepancies between the offer of employment and the Employee Handbook, the provisions of the offer of employment take priority and may supersede the content of certain parts of the Employee Handbook.

Building for the Future

As with any business, revenues are an absolute necessity for maintaining jobs and building for the future. Rather than looking at generating sales and revenue as an "undesirable task", we look at it as a "must" situation. How do we continue to generate revenues to ensure a secure future and continued opportunities for all employees? With teamwork, together we must meet the challenges we face on a daily basis.

In general, we have mentioned benefits, responsibilities and operations. We have saved the most crucial component of this business for last - You!

At all times, you represent the company, and it is up to each one of you to take this responsibility seriously. Our company exists with your joint efforts. Don't underestimate your contribution to it. A great many people outside the business who invest their time, money and faith in us are part of that equation. They are our customers who will determine how fast we grow, how many people we will employ, how many products we produce, how much service we render and the profit we make. In order to retain these customers, we want to ensure that our good service continues by always giving our customers the best possible value and quality. Working together and working well provides us with a bright future and with the most important commodity, a good reputation.

Equal Employment Opportunity

Our company is committed to equal employment opportunity. We will not discriminate against employees or applicants for employment on any legally-recognized basis ["protected class"] including, but not limited to: veteran status, uniform service member status, race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, genetic information or any other protected class under federal, state, or local law.

In Colorado, under the Colorado Anti-Discrimination Act, discrimination on the basis of disability, race, creed, color, sex, sexual orientation, religion, age, national origin, or ancestry is prohibited.

In New Jersey, the following are a protected class: race, creed, color, national origin, ancestry, age, marital status, domestic partnership status, civil union status, affectional or sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, sex, pregnancy, atypical hereditary cellular or blood trait, nationality, refusing to submit to a genetic test or make available the results of a genetic test to an employer, disability, liability for service in the U.S. military, and religious practice or observance.

You may discuss equal employment opportunity related questions with your manager or the CEO or any other member of management team as well as P&C.

Accommodating Disabilities

Our company is committed to providing equal employment opportunities to otherwise qualified individuals with disabilities. This may include providing reasonable accommodation where appropriate in order for an otherwise qualified individual to perform the essential functions of the job. It is your responsibility to notify your manager of the need for accommodation. Upon doing so, your manager may ask you for your input or the type of accommodation you believe may be necessary or the functional limitations caused by your disability. Also, when appropriate, we may need your permission to obtain additional information from your physician or other medical or rehabilitation professionals.

Smoke-Free Environment

It is the responsibility of BEUMER, to provide as reasonable as possible, a healthy work environment to its employees. It is because of this commitment that all BEUMER assets: corporate office, plants, vehicles, and job sites; are declared smoke-free environments. In addition to this policy, all rules, policies, and regulations mandated by airports on this subject are to be obeyed at all times. This policy also includes electronic cigarettes. This policy does not allow any retaliation against whistleblowers in respect to this policy.

A Word About Our Employee Relations Philosophy

We are committed to providing the best possible climate for maximum development and goal achievement for all employees. Our practice is to treat each employee as an individual. We seek to develop a spirit of teamwork; individuals working together to attain a common goal.

In order to maintain an atmosphere where these goals can be accomplished, we provide a comfortable and progressive workplace. Most importantly, we have a workplace where communication is open, and problems can be discussed and resolved in a mutually respectful atmosphere. We take into account individual circumstances and the individual employee.

We firmly believe that with direct communication, we can continue to resolve any difficulties that may arise and develop a mutually beneficial relationship.

Non-Harassment

We prohibit harassment of one employee by another employee, manager or third party for any reason based on a “protected class” including, but not limited to: veteran status, uniform service member status, race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, genetic information or any other protected class under federal, state or local law. Harassment of third parties by our employees is also prohibited.

The purpose of this policy is not to regulate the personal morality of employees. It is to ensure that in the workplace, no employee harasses another for any reason or in any manner. The conduct prohibited by this policy includes conduct in any form including but not limited to e-mail, voicemail, chat rooms, Internet use or history, text messages, pictures, images, writings, words or gestures.

While it is not easy to define precisely what harassment is, it includes: slurs, epithets, threats, derogatory comments or visual depictions, unwelcome jokes and teasing.

Any employee who believes he or she has been harassed should report the situation immediately to a member of management or directly to P&C. If an employee makes a report to any of these members of management and the manager either does not respond or does not respond in a manner the employee deems satisfactory or consistent with this policy, the employee is required to report the situation to one of the officers of the company.

The company will investigate all such reports as confidentially as possible. Adverse action will not be taken against an employee because he or she, in good faith, reports or participates in the investigation of a violation of this policy. Violations of this policy are not permitted and may result in disciplinary action, up to and including discharge.

Sexual Harassment

Any type of sexual harassment is against company policy and may be unlawful. We firmly prohibit sexual harassment of any employee by another employee, manager or third party. Harassment of third parties by our employees is also prohibited. The purpose of this policy is not to regulate the morality of employees; it is to ensure that in the workplace, no employee is subject to sexual harassment. While it is not easy to define precisely what sexual harassment is, it may include: unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and/or verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature including, but not limited to, sexually-related drawings, pictures, jokes, teasing, uninvited touching or other sexually-related comments. The conduct prohibited by this policy includes conduct in any form; including but not limited to e-mail, voicemail, chat rooms, internet use or history, text messages, pictures, images, writings, words or gestures.

Sexual harassment of an employee will not be tolerated. Violations of this policy may result in disciplinary action, up to and including discharge. There will be no adverse action taken against employees who report violations of this policy in good faith or participate in the investigation of such violations.

Any employee who feels that he or she is a victim of sexual harassment should immediately report such actions in accordance with the following procedure. All complaints will be promptly and thoroughly investigated as confidentially as possible.

- Any employee who believes that he or she is a victim of sexual harassment or has been retaliated against for complaining of sexual harassment should report the situation immediately to one of the members of management or directly to P&C. If an employee makes a report to any of these members of management and the manager either does not respond or does not respond in a manner the employee deems satisfactory or consistent with this policy, the employee is required to report the situation to one of the officers of the company.
- The company will investigate every reported incident immediately. Any employee, manager or agent of the company who has been found to have violated this policy may be subject to appropriate disciplinary action, up to and including immediate discharge.
- The company will conduct all investigations in a discreet manner. The company recognizes that every investigation requires a determination based on all the facts in the matter. We also recognize the serious impact a false accusation can have. We trust that all employees will continue to act responsibly.
- The reporting employee and any employee participating in any investigation under this policy have the company's assurance that no reprisals will be taken as a result of a sexual harassment complaint. It is our policy to encourage discussion of the matter, to help protect others from being subjected to similar inappropriate behavior.

Categories of Employment

INTRODUCTORY PERIOD: Full-time and part-time employees are on an introductory period during their first 30 days of employment.

During this time, you will be able to determine if your new job is suitable for you and your manager will have an opportunity to evaluate your work performance. However, the completion of the introductory period does not guarantee employment for any period of time thereafter.

FULL-TIME EMPLOYEES regularly work at least a 40-hour workweek.

PART-TIME EMPLOYEES work less than 40 hours each workweek.

TEMPORARY EMPLOYEES perform a job for a specified time, normally less than one year. In addition to the preceding categories, employees are also categorized as "exempt" or "non-exempt."

NON-EXEMPT EMPLOYEES are entitled to overtime pay as required by applicable federal and state law.

EXEMPT EMPLOYEES - Pursuant to applicable federal and state laws, exempt employees are not entitled to overtime pay, and are not subject to certain deductions to their salary under the company's policies.

Please see your manager or P&C with any questions on your exempt or non-exempt status. Upon hire, you will be notified of your employment classification.

Wage and Salary Policies

It is the company's desire to pay wages and salaries that are competitive with other employers in the marketplace in a way that will be motivational, fair and equitable, variable with individual and company performance and in compliance with all applicable statutory requirements.

You are employed by the company and will be entered directly on our payroll. No employee may be paid directly out of petty cash or any other such funds for work performed.

Application

The company applies the same principles of fairness and external comparability to all employees, regardless of organizational level, sex, religion, national origin, disability veteran status, uniform service member status, age, color, race, genetic information or any other category protected by applicable federal, state or local law.

Anniversary Date

The first day you report to work will be recorded in company records as your anniversary date. This date may be used to calculate many different company benefits. If you have any questions regarding your anniversary date, please see your manager or P&C.

Driver's License/Driving Record

Employees in positions where the operation of a motor vehicle is an essential duty of the position must present and maintain a valid driver's license and acceptable driving record to our insurer. Changes in your driving record must be reported to your manager immediately. Violations of this policy may result in immediate termination of your employment.

Immigration Reform and Control Act

In compliance with the federal Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986 (IRCA), as amended, and any state law requirements, if applicable, our company is committed to employing only individuals who are legally authorized to work in the United States.

Each new employee, as a condition of employment, must complete the Employment Eligibility Verification Form I-9 and present documentation establishing identity and employment eligibility.

If an employee is authorized to work in this country for a limited time period, the individual will be required to submit proof of renewed employment eligibility prior to expiration of that period to remain employed by the company.

Temporary & Permanent Immigration Status

BEUMER is committed to full compliance with all United States immigration laws and regulations. Due to the global nature of BEUMER's business, it is frequently necessary to initiate, on behalf of an employment candidate, or assist an employee with, an application for temporary or permanent immigration status allowing for employment with BEUMER. Therefore, a U.S. Immigration Policy has been adopted by BEUMER for all such requests and if applicable will be provided to you.

New Employee Orientation

Upon joining our company, you will be given access to a copy of our Employee Handbook. After reading the Employee Handbook, please electronically acknowledge via UKG Employee Portal. You will also be asked to complete personnel, payroll, and benefit forms.

Your manager is responsible for the operations of your department. He or she is a good source of information about the company and your job.

Suggestions and Ideas

We are always interested in your constructive ideas and suggestions for improving our operations. Your suggestions should be submitted in writing to your manager.

After we review your suggestion, you will be notified whether it is feasible to be put into practice.

We appreciate and welcome all of your suggestions and ideas.

Talk to Us

We encourage you to bring your questions, suggestions, and complaints to our attention. We will carefully consider each of these in our continuing effort to improve operations.

If you feel you have a problem, present the situation to your manager so that the problem can be settled by examination and discussion of the facts. We hope that your manager is able to satisfactorily resolve most matters.

If you still have questions after meeting with your manager or if you would like further clarification on the matter, request a meeting with People and Culture or the CEO. He or she will review the issues and meet with you to discuss possible solutions.

Your suggestions and comments on any subject are important, and we encourage you to take every opportunity to discuss them with us. Your job will not be adversely affected in any way because you choose to use this procedure.

If at any time you do not feel comfortable speaking with your manager or the next level of management, discuss your concern with any other member of management with whom you feel comfortable.

Your Pay and Progress

Recording Your Time

To ensure that the Company has complete and accurate time records and that employees are paid for all hours worked, nonexempt employees are required to accurately record all hours worked using the Company's prescribed time recording method. Nonexempt employees should record all hours worked and breaks longer than 20 minutes on a daily basis, including meal breaks. Nonexempt employees should record all time away from work, including paid sick leave, paid time off, unpaid time away and Company holidays. Exempt employees are not required to record working time except that portion of working time charged to customer and internal projects.

Your supervisor will review your time entries and ask you to verify them at the end of each week. Employees must ensure all time is recorded accurately by making corrections to their time entries as soon as possible. Off-the-clock work is strictly prohibited.

Falsifying time entries is strictly prohibited. If you falsify your time entries or work off the clock, you will be subject to discipline, up to and including termination of employment. You should immediately report to the People and Culture Department any supervisor or manager who falsifies your time entries or encourages or requires you to falsify your time entries or work off the clock.

Payday

You will be paid bi-weekly (every other Friday). If a payday falls on a nonworking day, employees will be paid the preceding workday.

Please review your paycheck for errors. If you find a mistake, report it to People and Culture immediately. People and Culture will assist you in taking the steps necessary to correct the error.

Paycheck Deductions

The company is required by law to make certain deductions from your paycheck each pay period. Such deductions typically include federal and state taxes and Social Security (FICA) taxes. Depending on the state in which you are employed and the benefits you choose, there may be additional deductions. All deductions and the amount of the deductions are listed on your pay stub. These deductions are totaled each year for you on your Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement.

It is the policy of the company that exempt employees' pay will not be "docked," or subject to deductions, in violation of salary pay rules issued by the United States Department of Labor and any corresponding rules issued by the state government, as applicable. However, the company may make deductions from employees' salaries in a way that is permitted under federal and state wage and hour rules. Employees will be reimbursed in full for any isolated, inadvertent, or improper deductions, as defined by law.

Thus, exempt employees may be subject to the following salary deductions, except where prohibited by state law, but only for the following reasons:

- Absences of one or more full days for personal reasons, other than sickness or disability; or
- Absences of one or more full days due to sickness or disability, if there is a plan, policy, or practice providing replacement compensation for such absences; or
- Absences of one or more full days before eligibility under such a plan, policy, or practice or after replacement compensation for such absences has been exhausted; or
- Suspensions of one or more full days for violations of safety rules of major significance; or
- Suspensions of one or more full days for violations of written workplace conduct rules, such as rules against sexual harassment and workplace violence; or
- Payment of actual time worked in the first and last weeks of employment, resulting in a proportional rate of an employee's full salary; or
- Any unpaid leave taken under the Family and Medical Leave Act; or
- Negative paid-time-off balances, in whole-day increments only.

If you have questions about deductions from your pay, please immediately contact People and Culture. If you believe you have been subject to any improper deductions or your pay does not accurately reflect your hours worked, you should immediately report the matter to your manager and People & Culture.

Garnishment/Child Support

When an employee's wages are garnished by a court order, our company is legally bound to withhold the amount indicated in the garnishment order from the employee's paycheck. Our company will, however, honor applicable federal and state guidelines that protect a certain amount of an employee's income from being subject to garnishment.

Direct Deposit

After your initial paycheck, you will have your payroll deposited into your bank account through our direct deposit program.

Performance Reviews

Your performance is important to our company. Throughout the year, your manager will informally or formally review your job progress within our company and may set new job performance goals and plans.

Our performance review program provides the basis for better understanding between you and your manager, with respect to your job performance, potential and development within the company. Please see your manager and People & Culture for formal timelines and additional information regarding the review process. New employees will generally be reviewed after six months of employment and then once each year.

Promotions

We believe that career advancement is rewarding for both the employee and the company. We will promote qualified employees to new or vacated positions whenever possible.

Pay Raises

Depending upon your performance and our company's profitability, adjustments in your pay may be made when there has been an improvement in or sustainment of an already good performance during the review period.

Overtime

There will be times when you will need to work overtime so that we may meet the needs of our customers. Although you will be given advance notice when feasible, this is not always possible. Non-exempt employees must have all overtime approved in advance by their manager.

Non-exempt employees will be paid at a rate of time and one-half their regular rate of pay for all hours worked in excess of their daily standard hours in a workweek, unless state law provides a greater benefit, in which case, we will comply with the state law.

If you have any questions concerning overtime pay, check with your manager or People and Culture.

Time Away From Work and Other Benefits

Employee Benefits

Our company has developed a comprehensive set of employee benefit programs to supplement our employees' regular wages. Our benefits represent a hidden value of additional income to our employees.

This Employee Handbook describes the current benefit plans maintained by the company. Please note that the description of the benefits contained in this handbook are merely highlights of the programs and benefits provided. Refer to the actual plan documents and summary plan descriptions if you have specific questions regarding the benefit plan. In the event of any conflict, the plan documents are governing.

Further, the Company or its designee retains full discretionary authority to interpret the terms of the plans, as well as full discretionary authority with regard to administrative matters arising in connection with the plans. The Company or its designee may modify or eliminate any benefits or programs it currently provides, as well as increase the cost to employees of such benefits and programs. This discretionary authority extends to all issues concerning benefit eligibility and entitlement.

Holidays

Our company normally observes the following holidays during the year:

- New Year's Day
- Memorial Day
- Independence Day
- Labor Day
- Thanksgiving Day
- The Day after Thanksgiving
- Christmas Eve Day
- Christmas Day
- New Year's Eve Day

In addition, the company will offer all full-time employees two (2) floating holidays. Employees are fully free to choose when to schedule floating holidays—which need not coincide with company recognized holidays. Employees may, however, wish to consider scheduling floating holidays in conjunction with Martin Luther King Jr. Day, Juneteenth, Ramadan, Rosh Hashana, Diwali, Kwanzaa, and Veterans' Day, among others. And, may also include birthday and/or an extension of a company observed holiday.

Eligible employees receive a paid holiday only if the holiday falls on a day they are normally scheduled to work. If a recognized holiday falls on a weekend, company management, in its own discretion, may announce another day as a paid day off.

Full-time employees are eligible for paid holidays immediately upon hire.

Exempt employees will receive holiday pay in compliance with state and federal wage and hour laws. Non-exempt employees must work their scheduled workday before and after the holiday in order to be paid for the holiday, unless they are absent with prior permission from their manager.

Paid Time Off (PTO)

Our People are our greatest strength—and your total wellbeing is critical to your being your best self and to achieving our purpose as an organization. BEUMER Corporation ("Company") recognizes that our employees have diverse needs for time off from work. Additionally, we understand that flexibility to use paid leave to meet your individual needs is one key to optimizing life-work balance. Accordingly, the Company has established this paid time off ("PTO") policy. The benefits of the PTO policy are that it promotes a flexible approach to time off by combining paid vacation and paid personal time. Employees are accountable and responsible for managing their own PTO hours to allow for adequate reserves if there is a need to cover vacation, appointments, emergencies, or other situations that require time off from work. Please refer to the Paid Time Off Policy (PTO) Policy for further details.

Paid Sick Leave (PSL)

The health of our employees—and that of those in our lives who depend on us—is our priority. We recognize that employees may require time off from work to attend to their own medical needs, the medical needs of a family member, circumstances related to being a victim of domestic or sexual violence, and public health emergencies. This Paid Sick Leave policy includes six (6) days (48 hours) to be used exclusively for paid sick leave ("PSL"). These PSL hours are advanced in full upon hire and thereafter at the beginning of each benefit year, which runs from January 1 through December 31 unless other required by State, Municipal, County or any other governmental subdivision's statute, regulation, law, or ordinance. Please refer to the Paid Sick Leave (PSL) Policy for further details.

Unpaid Days

Employees must use all of their earned time off first (depending on what category the time off is representative of). Unpaid time off will only be considered as an excused absence in emergency circumstances (supported by doctor's note for illness when applicable, etc.) outside that, requests in advance for such "unpaid" time will not be approved/granted. Employees must be responsible to manage their time off benefits appropriately. Failure to do so/abuse of this policy will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Jury Duty

Employees summoned for jury duty will receive their regular wages for three (3) days while they are serving as jurors, provided that they give reasonable advance notice to their manager that they will need time off to serve and provide a jury duty summons to People and Culture. All requests for jury duty must be entered into the UKG Portal and are subject to management approval.

We expect you to return to your job if you are excused from jury duty during your regular working hours.

Voting Leave

Our company believes that every employee should have the opportunity to vote in any state or federal election, general primary, or special primary. Any employee, whose work schedule does not provide him/her with three hours to vote while polls are open, will be granted up to three unpaid hours off in order to vote. We reserve the right to select the hours you are excused to vote. Exempt employees may be provided time off with pay when necessary to comply with state and federal wage and hour laws.

Notify your manager of the need for voting leave as soon as possible.

Military Leave

Employees who are required to fulfill military obligations in any branch of the Armed Forces of the United States or in state military service will be given the necessary time off and reinstated in accordance with federal and state law.

The time off will be unpaid, except where state law dictates otherwise. Exempt employees may be provided time off with pay when necessary to comply with state and federal wage and hour laws.

Earned vacation may be used for this leave if the employee chooses. Military orders should be presented to your manager and arrangements for leave made as early as possible before departure. Employees are required to give advance notice of their service obligations to the company unless military necessity makes this impossible. You must notify your manager of your intent to return to employment based on requirements of the law. Your benefits may continue to be earned during the period of leave in accordance with state and federal law.

Additional information regarding military leaves may be obtained from People and Culture.

Bereavement Leave

Full-time employees who have completed their introductory period are eligible for three paid days for the death of an immediate family member. Members of the immediate family include spouses, civil union partners, domestic partners, parents, brothers, sisters, children, children of civil union partners and children of domestic partners.

Full-time employees, who have completed their introductory period, are eligible for one paid day to attend the funeral of grandchildren, grandparents, your spouse's, civil union partner's, or domestic partner's grandparents or siblings, parents-in-law, parents of civil union partners and parents of domestic partners.

Full-time employees, who have completed their introductory period, are eligible for one unpaid day to attend the funeral of aunts, uncles, nieces and nephews. If you prefer, a personal day or a day of earned vacation may be used for this purpose.

Requests for bereavement leave should be submitted to your manager as soon as possible and entered into the UKG Portal (subject to management and People and Culture approval).

Colorado Volunteer Firefighter Leave

Volunteer firefighter employees that have previously provided the Company with documentation from the Chief of the Fire Department that the employee is a volunteer firefighter will receive unpaid leave for responding to an emergency summons issued by the Fire Chief. Following the leave, employees must provide a written statement from the Fire Chief verifying the time, date and duration of the employee's absence and confirming that the absence was due to the emergency summons.

Colorado Victim Protection/Domestic Abuse Leave

Employees who have been employed by the Company for at least 1 year may request up to 3 working days of leave in any 12-month period if they are the victim of domestic abuse, stalking, sexual assault, or other crimes related to domestic abuse to seek protective orders, obtain medical care, secure their home, seek legal assistance, or attend or prepare for court proceedings arising from the crime.

Personal Leave of Absence

Under special circumstances, full-time employees may be granted a leave of absence without pay. The granting of this type of leave is normally for compelling reasons and is dependent upon the written approval of your manager.

You must submit a request for a personal leave of absence into the UKG Portal at least three (3) weeks before you propose to begin such leave. All is subject to management approval.

However, if the personal leave of absence request is necessitated by an emergency, you or a member of your immediate family must notify your manager and request the leave as soon as practicable; this should be followed up with a written explanation of the nature of the leave and the expected length of absence requested. In such emergency situations, the written explanation must normally be submitted within two (2) days of the beginning of the leave. Your manager will submit your request to the appropriate member of management and People and Culture.

A personal leave of absence is granted at the sole discretion of the company and the company reserves the right to refuse a request for personal leave for any reason or no reason at all. Personal leaves of absence are not granted until all earned unused vacation and all available personal days have been exhausted. To the extent the personal leave is covered under any other leave policy, the personal leave will run concurrently with the other leave.

A personal leave of absence may be granted for up to thirty (30) days. If your leave is extended for more than thirty (30) days, vacation and other benefits will no longer continue to be earned and your group health benefits will cease, and you will be offered COBRA. Your anniversary date with the company will be postponed by the length of the personal leave of absence. The Company cannot guarantee reinstatement to any position during an approved leave under this policy. However, we will make reasonable efforts to return you to the same or similar job you held prior to the leave of absence, subject to our staffing and business requirements.

If you accept any other employment or go into business while on a personal leave of absence from BEUMER, you will be considered to have voluntarily resigned from employment with BEUMER as of the day on which you began the leave of absence.

Exempt employees who take leave under this policy may be provided time off with pay when necessary to comply with state and federal wage and hour laws.

Health Insurance

Eligible full-time employees and those working an average of 30 hours or more per week, may enroll in the company's group health insurance plan (medical, RX & dental) on their first day of employment.

Information and enrollment forms may be obtained from People and Culture.

A booklet containing the details of the plan and eligibility requirements may be obtained from People and Culture.

Refer to the actual plan document and summary plan description if you have specific questions regarding this benefit plan. Those documents are governing.

Upon termination you may be entitled to continuation or conversion of the group health insurance plan in accordance with the terms of the policy and/or applicable state and federal law.

For more information, contact People and Culture.

COBRA

You and your covered dependents may have the opportunity to continue health benefits for a period of up to 18 months (or under certain circumstances 36 months) under the provisions of the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act (COBRA) when group health coverage for you and your covered dependents would otherwise end due to your death or because:

- your employment terminates, for a reason other than gross misconduct; or
- your employment status changes due to a reduction in hours; or
- your child ceases to be a "dependent child" under the terms of the medical plan; or
- you become divorced or legally separated; or
- you become entitled to Medicare
- you are on a leave of absence which does not or no longer qualifies under FMLA

In the event of divorce, legal separation, or a child's loss of dependent status, you or a family member must notify the plan administrator within 60 days of the occurrence of the event.

The plan administrator will notify the individuals eligible for continuation coverage of their right to elect COBRA continuation coverage. For more information regarding COBRA, you may contact People and Culture.

Life Insurance

Eligible full-time employees are enrolled in this plan immediately upon hire.

You must complete an insurance form and designate your beneficiary.

Participating employees are covered under the plan's Accidental Death and Dismemberment rider. Complete details of this plan may be obtained from People and Culture.

Long-Term Disability Insurance

Eligible full-time employees participate in our long-term disability insurance program.

Long-term disability insurance provides eligible employees with a continuing source of income after ninety consecutive days of total disability. The benefits are calculated as a percentage of your salary.

This is intended as a summary of benefits only. Additional information may be obtained from People and Culture.

401(k) Qualified Retirement Plan

Our company provides eligible employees with a 401(k) Qualified Retirement Plan which is an excellent means of long-term savings for your retirement. The company's contribution, if any, is determined by the employer on an annual basis.

You can obtain a copy of the Summary Plan Description which contains the details of the plan including eligibility and benefit provisions from People and Culture. In the event of any conflict in the description of any plan, the official plan documents, which are available for your review, shall govern. If you have any questions regarding this plan, see the plan administrator or People and Culture.

Section 125 Plans/FSA Plan

Our company offers a pretax contribution option for employees. This employee benefit is known as a Section 125 plan.

A Section 125 plan is a benefit plan that allows you to make contributions toward premiums for health insurance and out-of-pocket health expenses or dependent care expenses on a “before tax”, rather than an “after tax” basis. Your premium contributions and qualified expenses are deducted from your gross pay before income taxes and Social Security is calculated.

To participate in this plan, complete an election form and return it to People and Culture.

You cannot make any changes to your pretax contributions until the next open enrollment period, unless your family status changes or you become eligible for a special enrollment period due to a loss of coverage. Family status changes include marriage, divorce, death of a spouse, domestic partner, civil union partner or child, birth or adoption of a child or discharge of employment of your spouse, domestic partner, civil union partner. A change in election due to a change in family status is effective the next pay period.

Employee Assistance Program

Eligible full-time and part-time employees may participate in our employee assistance program immediately upon hire.

Our Employee Assistance Program (EAP), helps eligible employees and their immediate families with a wide range of problems. Situations addressed by the EAP include marriage and family problems, emotional problems, alcoholism and alcohol abuse, drug abuse and dependency, financial problems, compulsive gambling and eating disorders. Your conversations and all records are strictly confidential.

Additional information regarding this program is available at www.metliffeap.lifeworks.com or by calling 1-888-319-7819. Complete details of this program may be obtained from People and Culture.

Learning Enablement and Assistance Program (LEAP)

Learning is an integral component of engagement, growth, and career development. A learning culture serves as an essential mechanism to inspire, support, challenge, and position our People toward success. Whether there is interest in higher education or an advanced specialization, BEUMER Corporation has instituted uniform guidelines to ensure that our People have the opportunity and support to continue their learning and development journey.

BEUMER Corporation (the "Company") will provide education financial assistance for qualifying programs through an accredited institution (hereinafter defined) that either offer growth in an area related to an employee's current role or may lead to promotional opportunities in line with Company objectives. This education includes college/university credit courses/programs, continuing education unit courses, and role-related certification programs.

Company-required trainings, seminars and conferences are independent of this program.

Parental Leave Pay Benefit

Full-time employees who have completed three (3) years of employment may be granted a leave of absence with two weeks of full pay and two weeks of half-pay upon the birth or adoption of a child, consistent with our business needs. Such leave must begin within six months of the birth of the child and/or placement of a child for adoption. This Parental Leave Pay Benefit will run concurrently with the FMLA and for NJ employees only, will run concurrently with the NJFLA and NJFLI benefit to the extent permitted by law. This leave benefit will no longer be "grandfathered".

A period of parental leave may not exceed four weeks in a 24-month period. In addition, benefits such as paid time off and holidays will not be earned while employees are on a parental leave. Health insurance coverage will be continued during the parental leave to the extent permitted under the plan document and applicable law.

Employees seeking parental leave must provide a minimum of 30 days' advance notice of their intent to take parental leave and the anticipated date of their return. This request for leave must be entered into the UKG Portal and is subject to management approval. Employees may not accept other employment or apply for unemployment insurance while on parental leave. Acceptance of other employment while on leave will be treated as a voluntary resignation from employment.

We will make a reasonable effort to return you to the same or a similar position upon your return from leave subject to our staffing and business requirements unless otherwise required under applicable federal or state law.

Disability Leave

Full-time employees are eligible for an unpaid disability leave. Disability leave due to non-occupational illness, injury or pregnancy-related disability is not to exceed ninety days.

Granting this leave may be required as a reasonable accommodation in accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act and applicable state law.

Employees requesting leave must provide written notice of the disability, including a doctor's certificate stating the nature of the disability and the expected date of return to work.

If your disability leave is covered under FMLA, you may continue your health insurance coverage and are expected to make monthly payments if you've "bought up" the medical plan and/or elected any discretionary benefits. If your disability is not covered under FMLA, your benefits will cease after thirty (30) and you will be offered COBRA.

If you are required to take a medical leave of absence, any available sick days will be applied at the time the leave commences.

If you are on an approved leave of absence for less than 30 days, your sick day eligibility will not be affected; should the leave extend beyond 30 calendar days, sick days will not continue to accumulate

When you are able to return to work, give us at least one week's advance written notice. Include a doctor's certificate stating that you are medically able to return to your normal duties. We reserve the right to require a physical examination by a physician of our own choosing prior to your resumption of duties, as required by state law.

We will return you to the same or similar position you held prior to the disability leave, subject to our staffing and business requirements. Your continued absence from work beyond your disability (as determined by your physician) will be deemed a voluntary termination of your employment. However, if any state or federal law requires a greater benefit or accommodation than the policy described above, the Company will comply with such law.

This leave may run concurrently with any other leave where permitted by state and federal law.

Federal Family and Medical Leave Act

The Family and Medical Leave Act (“FMLA”) provides eligible employees the opportunity to take unpaid job-protected leave for certain specific reasons. The maximum amount of leave an employee may use is either 12 or 26 weeks within a 12-month period depending on the reasons for the leave.

Employee Eligibility

To be eligible for FMLA leave, you must:

- have worked at least 12 months for the company (which need not be consecutive) in the preceding seven years (limited exception apply to the seven-year requirement);
- have worked at least 1,250 hours for the company over the preceding 12 months;
- and
- currently work at a location where there are at least 50 employees within 75 miles.

Conditions Triggering Leave

FMLA leave may be taken for the following reasons:

- birth of a child, or to care for a newly-born child (up to 12 weeks);
- placement of a child with the employee for adoption or foster care (up to 12 weeks) to care for an immediate family member (employee's spouse, child, or parent) with a serious health condition (up to 12 weeks);
- because of the employee's serious health condition that makes the employee unable to perform the employee's job (up to 12 weeks);
- to care for a covered service member with a serious injury or illness related to certain types of military service (up to 26 weeks) (see Military-Related FMLA Leave for more details); or
- to handle certain qualifying exigencies arising out of the fact that the employee's spouse, domestic partner, civil union partner, son, daughter, or parent is a covered military member on covered active duty or has been notified of an impending call or order to covered active duty status in the Reserve component of the Armed Forces for deployment to a foreign country in support of a contingency operation or Regular

Armed Forces for deployment to a foreign country (up to 12 weeks) (see Military-Related FMLA Leave for more details).

The maximum amount of leave that may be taken in a 12-month period for all reasons combined is 12 weeks, with one exception. For leave to care for a covered service member, the maximum combined leave entitlement is 26 weeks, with leaves for all other reasons constituting no more than 12 of those 26 weeks.

Definitions

A “Serious Health Condition” is an illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition that involves either an overnight stay in a medical care facility, or continuing treatment by a health care provider for a condition that either prevents the employee from performing the functions of the employee's job or prevents the qualified family member from participating in school or other daily activities. Subject to certain conditions, the continuing treatment requirement includes an incapacity of more than three full calendar days and two visits to a health care provider or one visit to a health care provider and a continuing regimen of care; an incapacity caused by pregnancy or prenatal visits, a chronic condition, or permanent or long-term conditions; or absences due to multiple treatments. Other situations may meet the definition of continuing treatment.

A “covered service member” is a member or veteran of the Armed Forces, including the National Guard or Reserves, who is undergoing medical treatment, recuperation, or therapy, is otherwise in outpatient status, or is otherwise on the temporary disability retired list, for a serious injury or illness. The term “serious injury or illness” means an injury or illness incurred by the member in the line of duty while on active duty in the Armed Forces that may render the member medically unfit to perform the duties of the member’s office, grade, rank, or rating.

The term “serious injury or illness” means an injury or illness incurred by the member in the line of duty while on active duty in the Armed Forces that may render the member medically unfit to perform the duties of the member’s office, grade, rank, or rating or one that existed before the beginning of active duty and was aggravated by service in the line of duty while on active duty. With regard to veterans, the injury or illness may manifest itself before or after the individual assumed veteran status.

“Qualifying exigencies” include activities such as short-notice deployment, military events, arranging alternative childcare, caring for the parents of the military member on covered active duty, making financial and legal arrangements related to the deployment, rest and recuperation, counseling, and post-deployment debriefings.

“Spouse” means a husband or wife. For purposes of this definition, husband and wife refers to the other person with whom an individual entered into marriage as defined or recognized under state law for purposes of marriage in the State in which the marriage was entered into or, in the case of a marriage entered into outside of any State, if the marriage is valid in the place where entered into and could have been entered into in at least one State. This definition includes an individual in a same-sex or common law marriage that either: (1) was entered into in the State that recognizes such marriages; or (2) if entered into outside of any State, is valid in the place where entered into and could have been entered into in at least one State.

Identifying the 12 Month Period

The 12-month period in which 12 weeks of leave may be taken is the 12-month period measured forward from the date FMLA leave begins. For leave to care for a covered service member, the company calculates the 12-month period beginning on the first day the eligible employee takes FMLA leave to care for a covered service member and ends 12 months after that date. FMLA leave for the birth or placement of a child for adoption or foster care must be concluded within 12 months of the birth or placement.

Using Leave

Eligible employees may take FMLA leave in a single block of time, intermittently (in separate blocks of time), or by reducing the normal work schedule when medically necessary for the serious health condition of the employee or immediate family member, or in the case of a covered service member, his or her injury or illness. Eligible employees may also take intermittent or reduced-scheduled leave for military qualifying exigencies. Intermittent leave is not permitted for birth of a child, to care for a newly-born child, or for placement of a child for adoption or foster care. Employees who require intermittent or reduced-schedule leave must try to schedule their leave so that it will not unduly disrupt the company's operations.

Use of Earned Paid Leave

Depending on the purpose of your leave request, you may choose (or the company may require you) to use earned paid leave (such as sick leave, vacation, personal days, or family leave), concurrently with some or all of your FMLA leave. In order to substitute paid leave for FMLA leave, an eligible employee must comply with the company's normal procedures for the applicable paid-leave policy (e.g., call-in procedures, advance notice, etc.).

Maintenance of Health Benefits

If you and/or your family participate in our group health plan, the company will maintain coverage during your FMLA leave on the same terms as if you had continued to work. If applicable, you must make arrangements to pay your share of health plan premiums while on leave. In some instances, the company may recover premiums it paid to maintain health coverage or other benefits for you and your family. Use of FMLA leave will not result in the loss of any employment benefit that earned prior to the start of your leave.

Notice and Medical Certification

When seeking FMLA leave, you are required to provide:

- Sufficient information for us to determine if the requested leave may qualify for FMLA protection and the anticipated timing and duration of the leave. Sufficient information may include that you are unable to perform job functions, a family member is unable to perform daily activities, the need for hospitalization or continuing treatment by a health care provider, or circumstances supporting the need for military family leave. You must also inform the company if the requested leave is for a reason for which FMLA leave was previously taken or certified.
- If the need for leave is foreseeable, this information must be provided 30 days in advance of the anticipated beginning date of the leave and entered into the UKG Portal subject to management approval. If the need for leave is not foreseeable, this information must be provided as soon as is practicable and in compliance with the company normal call-in procedures, absent unusual circumstances.
- Medical certification supporting the need for leave due to a serious health condition affecting you or an immediate family member within 15 calendar days of the company request to provide the certification (additional time may be permitted in some circumstances). If you fail to do so, we may delay the commencement of your leave, withdraw any designation of FMLA leave or deny the leave, in which case your leave of absence would be treated in accordance with our standard leave of absence and attendance policies, subjecting you to discipline up to and including discharge. Second or third medical opinions and periodic re-certifications may also be required;
- Periodic reports as deemed appropriate during the leave regarding your status and intent to return to work; and
- Medical certification of fitness for duty before returning to work, if the leave was due to your serious health condition. The company will require this certification to address whether you can perform the essential functions of your position.

Failure to comply with the foregoing requirements may result in delay or denial of leave, or disciplinary action, up to and including discharge.

Employer Responsibilities

To the extent required by law, the company will inform employees whether they are eligible under the FMLA. Should an employee be eligible for FMLA leave, the company will provide them with a notice that specifies any additional information required as well as the employee's rights and responsibilities. If employees are not eligible, the company will provide a reason for the ineligibility. The company will also inform employees if leave will be designated as FMLA-protected and, to the extent possible, note the amount of leave counted against the employee's leave entitlement. If the company determines that the leave is not FMLA-protected, the company will notify the employee.

Job Restoration

Upon returning from FMLA leave, eligible employees will typically be restored to their original job or to an equivalent job with equivalent pay, benefits, and other employment terms and conditions.

Failure to Return After FMLA Leave

Any employee who fails to return to work as scheduled after FMLA leave or exceeds the 12-week FMLA entitlement (or in the case of military caregiver leave, the 26-week FMLA entitlement), will be subject to the company's standard leave of absence and attendance policies. This may result in discharge if you have no other company-provided or legally mandated leave available to you that applies to your continued absence. Likewise, following the conclusion of your FMLA leave, the company's obligation to maintain your group health plan benefits ends (subject to any applicable COBRA rights).

Other Employment

The company generally prohibits employees from holding other employment. This policy remains in force during all leaves of absence including FMLA leave and may result in disciplinary action, up to and including discharge.

Fraud

Providing false or misleading information or omitting material information in connection with an FMLA leave will result in disciplinary action, up to and including discharge.

Employer's Compliance with FMLA and Employee's Enforcement Rights

The FMLA makes it unlawful for any employer to interfere with, restrain, or deny the exercise of any right provided under FMLA, or discharge or discriminate against any person for opposing any practice made unlawful by FMLA or for involvement in any proceeding under or relating to FMLA.

While the company encourages employees to bring any concerns or complaints about compliance with FMLA to the attention of your manager and P&C, FMLA regulations require employers to advise employees that they may file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Labor or bring a private lawsuit against an employer.

Further, FMLA does not affect any Federal or state law prohibiting discrimination or supersede any State or local law or collective bargaining agreement which provides greater family or medical leave rights.

Limited Nature of This Policy

This policy should not be construed to confer any express or implied contractual relationship or rights to any employee not expressly provided for by FMLA. The company reserves the right to modify this or any other policy as necessary, in its sole discretion to the extent permitted by law. State or local leave laws may also apply and may not be expressly outlined in this handbook. Please contact People & Culture for further information.

Military-Related Federal FMLA Leave

FMLA leave may also be available to eligible employees in connection with certain service-related medical and non-medical needs of family members. There are two forms of such leave. The first is Military Caregiver Leave, and the second is Qualifying Exigency Leave. Each of these leaves is detailed below.

Military Caregiver Leave

Unpaid Military Caregiver Leave is designed to allow eligible employees to care for certain family members who have sustained serious injuries or illnesses in the line of duty while on active duty. The family member must be a “covered service member,” which means: (1) a current member or veteran of the Armed Forces, National Guard or Reserves, (2) who is undergoing medical treatment, recuperation, or therapy; or, in the case of a veteran, who was a current member of the Armed Forces, National Guard or Reserves within five years prior to the treatment for which an eligible employee requests leave; is otherwise in outpatient status; or is otherwise on the temporary disability retired list, (3) for a serious injury or illness that may render a current member medically unfit to perform the duties of the member’s office, grade, rank, or rating. Military Caregiver Leave is not available to care for service members on the permanent disability retired list.

To be “eligible” for Military Caregiver Leave, the employee must be a spouse, son, daughter, parent, or next of kin of the covered service member. “Next of kin” means the nearest blood relative of the service member, other than the service member’s spouse, parent, son, or daughter, in the following order of priority: blood relatives who have been granted legal custody of the service member by court decree or statutory provisions; brothers and sisters; grandparents; aunts and uncles; and first cousins; unless the service member has specifically designated in writing another blood relative as his or her nearest blood relative for purposes of Military Caregiver

Leave. The employee must also meet all other eligibility standards as set forth within the FMLA Leave policy.

An eligible employee may take up to 26 workweeks of Military Caregiver Leave to care for a covered service member in a “single 12-month period.” The “single 12-month period” begins on the first day leave is taken to care for a covered service member and ends 12 months thereafter, regardless of the method used to determine leave availability for other FMLA-qualifying reasons. If an employee does not exhaust his or her 26 workweeks of Military Caregiver Leave during this “single 12-month period,” the remainder is forfeited.

Military Caregiver Leave applies on a per-injury basis for each service member. Consequently, an eligible employee may take separate periods of caregiver leave for each and every covered service member, and/or for each and every serious injury or illness of the same covered service member. A total of no more than 26 workweeks of Military Caregiver Leave, however, may be taken within any “single 12-month period.”

Within the “single 12-month period” described above, an eligible employee may take a combined total of 26 weeks of FMLA leave including up to 12 weeks of leave for any other FMLA-qualifying reason (i.e., birth or adoption of a child, serious health condition of the employee or close family member, or a qualifying exigency). For example, during the “single 12-month period,” an eligible employee may take up to 16 weeks of FMLA leave to care for a covered service member when combined with up to 10 weeks of FMLA leave to care for a newborn child.

An employee seeking Military Caregiver Leave may be required to provide appropriate certification from the employee and/or covered service member and completed by an authorized health care provider within 15 days. Military Caregiver Leave is subject to the other provisions in our FMLA Leave Policy (requirements regarding employee eligibility, appropriate notice of the need for leave, use of earned paid leave, etc.). Military Caregiver Leave will be governed by, and handled in accordance with, the FMLA and applicable regulations, and nothing within this policy should be construed to be inconsistent with those regulations.

Qualifying Exigency Leave

Eligible employees may take unpaid “Qualifying Exigency Leave” to tend to certain “exigencies” arising out of the duty under a call or order to active duty of a “covered military member” (i.e. the employee's spouse, son, daughter, or parent). Up to 12 weeks of Qualifying Exigency Leave is available in any 12-month period, as measured by the same method that governs measurement of other forms of FMLA leave within the FMLA policy (with the exception of Military Caregiver Leave, which is subject to a maximum of 26 weeks of leave in a “single 12-month period”). Although Qualifying Exigency Leave may be combined with leave for other FMLA-qualifying reasons, under no circumstances may the combined total exceed 12 weeks in any 12-month period (with the exception of Military Caregiver Leave as set forth above). The employee must meet all other eligibility standards as set forth within the FMLA policy.

Persons who can be ordered to active duty include active and retired members of the Regular Armed Forces, certain members of the retired Reserve, and various other Reserve members including the Ready Reserve, the Selected Reserve, the Individual Ready Reserve, the National Guard, state military, Army Reserve, Navy Reserve, Marine Corps Reserve, Air National Guard, Air Force Reserve, and Coast Guard Reserve.

A call to active duty refers to a federal call to active duty, and state calls to active duty are not covered unless under order of the President of the United States pursuant to certain laws.

Qualifying Exigency Leave is available under the following circumstances:

- Short-notice deployment. To address any issue that arises out of short notice (within seven days or less) of an impending call or order to active duty.
- Military events and related activities. To attend any official military ceremony, program, or event related to active duty or a call to active duty status or to attend certain family support or assistance programs and informational briefings.
- Childcare and school activities. To arrange for alternative childcare; to provide childcare on an urgent, immediate need basis; to enroll in or transfer to a new school or daycare facility; or to attend meetings with staff at a school or daycare facility.
- Financial and legal arrangements. To make or update various financial or legal arrangements; or to act as the covered military member's representative before a federal, state, or local agency in connection with service benefits.
- Counseling. To attend counseling (by someone other than a health care provider) for the employee, the covered military member, or for a child or dependent when necessary as a result of duty under a call or order to active duty.
- Temporary rest and recuperation. To spend time with a covered military member who is on short-term, temporary rest and recuperation leave during the period of deployment. Eligible employees may take up to five days of leave for each instance of rest and recuperation.
- Post-deployment activities. To attend arrival ceremonies, reintegration briefings and events, and any other official ceremony or program sponsored by the military for a period of up to 90 days following the termination of the covered military member's active duty status. This also encompasses leave to address issues that arise from the death of a covered military member while on active duty status.

- Mutually agreed leave. Other events that arise from the close family member's duty under a call or order to active duty, provided that the company and the employee agree that such leave shall qualify as an exigency and agree to both the timing and duration of such leave.

An employee seeking Qualifying Exigency Leave may be required to submit appropriate supporting documentation in the form of a copy of the covered military member's active duty orders or other military documentation indicating the appropriate military status and the dates of active duty status, along with a statement setting forth the nature and details of the specific exigency, the amount of leave needed and the employee's relationship to the military member, within 15 days. Qualifying Exigency Leave will be governed by, and handled in accordance with, the FMLA and applicable regulations, and nothing within this policy should be construed to be inconsistent with those regulations.

The Colorado Family Care Act (Colorado Employees only)

Under the Colorado Family Care Act ("FCA"), in addition to the leave to which an employee is entitled under the FMLA, an employee in Colorado is entitled to FMLA leave for the following reasons: (1) to care for a partner in a civil union who has a serious health condition; or (2) to care for a domestic partner who has a serious health condition, provided that: (i) the domestic partnership is registered in the municipality in which the person resides or with the state, if applicable; or (ii) the person for whom the employee is requesting FMLA is recognized by the employer as the employee's domestic partner.

For purposes of confirming an employee's relationship to a partner in a civil union or domestic partner, the employer may require the employee to provide reasonable documentation or a written statement of family relationship, in accordance with the FMLA. An employer may require an employee seeking FMLA leave for a partner in a civil union or domestic partner to submit the same certification as the employer may require under the FMLA. FMLA leave taken by an employee pursuant to the FCA runs concurrently with leave taken under the FMLA, and the FCA does not: (a) increase the total amount of leave to which an employee is entitled during a twelve-month period under the FMLA, the FCA, or both; and (b) preclude an employer from granting an employee an amount of leave that exceeds the total amount of leave to which the employee is entitled during a twelve-month period under the FMLA.

PLEASE NOTE: FCA LEAVE IS IN ADDITION TO FMLA LEAVE. ACCORDINGLY, COLORADO EMPLOYEES QUALIFY FOR FCA LEAVE ONLY IF THEY ALSO QUALIFY FOR FMLA LEAVE.

Short-Term Disability Insurance (New Jersey Employees only)

All employees who have met the minimum earning requirements are eligible for short-term disability insurance. This insurance is designed to provide income for you when you are absent from work for more than seven calendar days due to non-occupational illness, injury or pregnancy-related disability.

The benefits are calculated as a percentage of your salary up to a weekly maximum, as specified by law, for up to 26 weeks.

The cost of this insurance is shared between the company and the employee.

Provide written notice including a doctor's certificate stating the nature of the disability and your expected date of return to work. Disability insurance information may be obtained from People and Culture.

Family Leave Insurance (New Jersey Family Leave Insurance) (New Jersey Employees only)

The State of New Jersey may provide partial wage benefits to eligible employees for up to 12 weeks in a 12-month period for the following reasons:

- To bond with a child during the first 12 months after the child's birth, if the covered individual or the domestic partner or civil union partner of the covered individual, is a biological parent of the child, or the first 12 months after the placement of the child for adoption with the covered individual.
- To care for a family member with a serious health condition supported by a certification provided by a health care provider.

Parent of a covered individual means a biological parent, foster parent, adoptive parent, or stepparent of the covered individual or a person who was a legal guardian of the covered individual when the covered individual was a child.

Family member means a child, spouse, domestic partner, civil union partner or parent of a covered individual. Child means a biological, adopted, or foster child, stepchild or legal ward of a covered individual, child of a domestic partner of the covered individual, or child of a civil union partner of the covered individual, who is less than 19 years of age or is 19 years of age or older but incapable of self-care because of mental or physical impairment.

These benefits are financed solely through employee contributions to the state. The state is responsible for determining if an employee is eligible for such benefits. There generally is a waiting period during which time no family leave insurance benefits are available. The Division of Temporary Disability Insurance can provide additional information about any applicable waiting period and eligibility.

The Family Leave Insurance benefits program provides covered individuals with a monetary benefit, not a leave entitlement. Further, this policy does not provide additional time off, rather Family Leave Insurance may provide compensation during an approved leave of absence pursuant to the New Jersey Family Leave Law, the Federal Family and Medical Leave Act or any other company provided leave.

Please refer to our Disability Leave, Family Leave, and Federal Family and Medical Leave policies for more information about available leave entitlements which may run concurrently with Family Leave Insurance benefits.

The Family Leave Insurance benefits program does not establish the right of a covered employee to be restored to employment following a period of leave from work to participate in providing care for a family member who has a serious health condition or to bond with a newborn or newly adopted child.

As a condition of initial receipt of Family Leave Insurance, you will be required to use any earned but unused paid personal time, sick time, vacation time or other paid leave, up to a maximum of two weeks.

You are responsible for filing your claim for benefits under this program and other forms promptly and accurately with the Department of Labor and Workforce Development, Division of Temporary Disability Insurance.

When requesting benefits during a leave to care for a child after birth or adoption, you must provide People and Culture with at least 30 days prior notice, except when unforeseeable circumstances prevent prior notice. Leave taken on an intermittent basis for this reason must be taken in periods of seven days or more and the schedule must be mutually agreed to by both the employer and the employee.

When requesting Family Leave Insurance benefits during a leave to care for a family member with a serious health condition, you must provide People and Culture with reasonable and practicable notice unless the time of the leave is unexpected or the time of the leave changes for unforeseeable reasons and is required to schedule, when possible, the leave in a manner to minimize disruption of employer operations. If you intend to take leave on an intermittent basis, you must provide at least 15 days advance notice. Employees taking leave to care for a family member may be required to provide medical certification.

The cost of this insurance is fully paid by the employee through payroll taxes. Please contact People and Culture for additional information.

Family Leave (New Jersey Family Leave Act)
(New Jersey Employees only)

All employees who have worked for the Company for 12 months in New Jersey and at least 1,000 base hours (including overtime) in the previous 12 months of consecutive employment are eligible to receive up to 12 weeks of unpaid Family Leave within a 24-month period. The 24-month period is measured rolling backward from the date leave is used.

Family Leave may be used only in the event of a birth or adoption of a child or to provide care due to the serious health condition of a child, spouse, civil union partner, parent or your spouse's, civil union partner's parent.

Unless prevented by a medical emergency, you must provide notice to your manager and People and Culture of your need for leave as soon as possible and enter on to the UKG Portal subject to management approval. In the case of a leave in connection with the serious health condition of a family member, you must provide notice no later than 30 days prior to the leave, except where emergent circumstances warrant shorter notice. You will be required to provide a certification issued by a licensed health care provider prior to the company granting a request for family leave.

Leave taken due to the birth or adoption of a child may begin any time within one year of the birth or placement for adoption. Such leave must be taken consecutively unless the company agrees to permit the employee to take this leave on an intermittent or reduced leave schedule. Leave taken due to the serious illness of a child or covered family member may be taken consecutively or, if medically necessary, on an intermittent basis if prior notice is given in a manner that is reasonable and practical and the employee makes a reasonable effort to schedule the leave so as not to disrupt unduly the operations of the company. Where intermittent leave is taken, the employer may require the employee to transfer to an alternative position having the equivalent pay and benefits for which the employee is qualified, and which better accommodates recurring periods of leave than does the employee's regular position.

As noted above, because the NJFLA is only a "Family Leave" law, employees should note that leave granted due to an employee's own serious health condition is not covered by the NJFLA. This can result in important distinctions in the calculation of available leave. For example, because the period of leave caused by an employee's disability due to pregnancy or childbirth is more properly classified as leave due to an employee's own serious health condition, the Company normally would count such time toward the employee's FMLA allotment only. Once the period of disability due to pregnancy or childbirth has ended (i.e., employee is cleared to return to work), an employee would be eligible to use her leave under the NJFLA to care for her newborn child and run that time concurrently with any remaining FMLA leave. In instances where an employee remains disabled due to childbirth and an employee has no FMLA leave remaining, the Company will allow employees to begin using NJFLA leave.

You are entitled to return to your previous or similar position, unless during such leave the company has experienced a reduction in force or layoff, and you would have lost your position had you not been on a Family Leave.

Consistent with the company's policies, you may be required to substitute certain earned paid leave time for unpaid family medical leave.

This leave may run concurrently with the Federal Family and Medical Leave Act and/or any other leave where permitted by state and federal law.

New Jersey Security and Financial Empowerment Act Leave Policy (New Jersey employees only)

The purpose of this policy is to provide a brief description of employees' rights to an unpaid leave of absence to address personal issues relating to a victim of an incident of domestic violence or a sexually violent offense under the New Jersey Security and Financial Empowerment Act (NJ SAFE Act). Whenever permissible under applicable law, the Company will run NJ Safe Act leave concurrently with any leave under the federal Family and Medical Leave Act ("FMLA") and/or the New Jersey Family Leave Act ("NJFLA") and any other leave provided under applicable state or local law. The following provides a brief description of your rights and obligations under the NJ Safe Act.

Employees Eligible for Leave

To be eligible for leave under the NJ Safe Act, employees must: (1) have been employed by the Company for at least 12 months; and (2) have worked at least 1,000 base hours during the 12-month period immediately preceding the leave.

NJ SAFE Act Leave Entitlements

An eligible employee who was a victim of an incident of domestic violence or a sexually violent offense, as defined under state law, or whose child, parent, spouse, domestic partner or civil union partner was a victim may receive up to 20 days of unpaid leave in one 12-month period, to be used in the 12-month period next following any incident of domestic violence or any sexually violent offenses.

Each incident of domestic violence or any sexually violent offense constitutes a separate offense for which an employee is entitled to unpaid leave, provided the employee has not exhausted the allotted 20 days for the 12-month period.

Leave may be used for any of the following activities as they relate to the incident of domestic violence or sexually violent offense:

- Seeking medical attention for, or recovering from, physical or psychological injuries caused by domestic or sexual violence to the employee or the employee's child, parent, spouse, domestic partner, or civil union partner;
- Obtaining services from a victim services organization for the employee or the employee's child, parent, spouse, domestic partner, or civil union partner;
- Obtaining psychological or other counseling for the employee or the employee's child, parent, spouse, domestic partner, or civil union partner;
- Participating in safety planning, temporarily or permanently relocating, or taking other actions to increase the safety of the employee, or the employee's child, parent, spouse, domestic partner, or civil union partner from future domestic or sexual violence or to ensure economic security;
- Seeking legal assistance or remedies to ensure the health and safety of the employee or the employee's child, parent, spouse, domestic partner, or civil union partner, including preparing for, or participating in, any civil or criminal legal proceeding related to or derived from domestic or sexual violence;
- Attending, participating in, or preparing for a criminal or civil court proceeding relating to an incident of domestic or sexual violence of which the employee or the employee's child, parent, spouse, domestic partner, or civil union partner was a victim.

Required Employee Notice Concerning Need for Leave

If the need for leave is foreseeable, employees must provide the Company advance written notice of the need for leave as far in advance as is reasonable and practical under the circumstances.

Documentation Supporting Leave Request

The Company reserves the right to require employees who request leave for domestic violence or sexually violent offenses to provide documentation which supports the basis of the leave. An employee can provide one or more of the following as sufficient documentation:

1. A domestic violence restraining order or other documentation of equitable relief issued by a court of competent jurisdiction;
2. A letter or other written documentation from the county or municipal prosecutor documenting the domestic violence or sexually violent offense;
3. Documentation of the conviction of a person for the domestic violence or sexually violent offense;
4. Medical documentation of the domestic violence or sexually violent offense;
5. Certification from a certified Domestic Violence Specialist or the director of a designated domestic violence agency or Rape Crisis Center, that the employee or

- employee's child, parent, spouse, domestic partner, or civil union partner is a victim of domestic violence or a sexually violent offense; or
6. Other documentation or certification of the domestic violence or sexually violent offense provided by a social worker, member of the clergy, shelter worker, or other professional who has assisted the employee or employee's child, parent, spouse, domestic partner, or civil union partner in dealing with the domestic violence or sexually violent offenses.

Any of the above information that is submitted by an employee regarding a leave taken pursuant to this policy and any failure of an employee to return to work will be retained in the strictest confidentiality possible, unless the employee voluntarily authorizes the disclosure in writing or the Company is required to disclose such information by applicable federal or state law, rule or regulation.

Intermittent Leave

Employees may take leave intermittently in intervals of no less than one (1) day.

Use of Earned Paid Time During Leave

Employees must use any earned paid time first while taking leave unless working in the State of Kansas. The use of earned paid time during the leave does not extend the length of such leave and shall run concurrently with an employee's leave entitlement under this policy. However, seniority and other employment benefits will not be earned during any such unpaid leave. Employees will, of course, retain any benefits they had earned, including seniority, prior to the beginning of their leave. Employees may be eligible for compensation, such as temporary disability benefits or family leave insurance benefits. Any compensation or leave taken in connection with any other policy/plan shall run concurrently with any leave entitlement under this policy.

Social Security

During your employment, you and the company both contribute funds to the federal government to support the Social Security program. This program is intended to provide you with retirement benefit payments and medical coverage once you reach retirement age.

Unemployment Insurance

Upon separation from employment, you may be entitled to state and federal unemployment insurance benefits. Information about unemployment insurance can be obtained from People and Culture.

Workers' Compensation

On-the-job injuries or illnesses are covered by our Workers' Compensation insurance policy. This insurance is provided at no cost to you. If you are injured on the job, no matter how slightly, report the incident immediately to your manager and People and Culture. Consistent with applicable state law, failure to report an injury within a reasonable period of time could jeopardize or delay your claim. We ask for your assistance in alerting management to any condition that could lead to or contribute to an employee accident.

Employee Bonuses

Employees may receive bonuses from time to time. These are based on individual merit, the company's profitability and any other factor(s) deemed significant by the company. Whether or not bonuses are granted, and the amounts granted are within the sole discretion of the company.

Refer to Payroll Practice and Compensation Policy for further details.

Professional Development

Our company believes in supporting the individual growth of its employees. To encourage employee development, our company offers a professional development reimbursement program to eligible employees who attend job-related seminars.

To participate in this program, you must be a full-time employee. Approval from your manager and CEO must be received prior to registration for the seminar. Our company will pay the full cost of approved job-related seminars.

In an effort to keep our company informed of new developments, we ask that you share any new information presented at the seminar with the rest of the staff.

On the Job

Conduct at Customer's Site

The nature of our company may require that employees perform work connected with a customer's assignment at the customer's site. The importance of professional conduct when working at a customer's site cannot be emphasized enough. Professional conduct is a broad term that is open to many interpretations. The following guidelines describe appropriate conduct when working at a customer's site:

- Limit discussions with customer employees to matters that concern their department and level of responsibility. Long, personal discussions with customer personnel are discouraged. Such disruptions of work will only offend customer executives and customer employees.

- Do not discuss confidential information with customer personnel.
- Avoid comments or criticisms involving other companies and their particular work or fees.
- Refrain from discussing shortcomings or idiosyncrasies of customer employees.
- Avoid conversations involving private customer matters in all public places.
- Avoid discussing confidential information with management while customer employees are present.
- Follow up on orders and questions promptly, provide businesslike replies to inquiries and requests, and perform all duties in an orderly manner.
- All customer substance abuse and/or safety policies shall be adhered to while on the customer's site.
- Purchase items from a customer at normal sale prices.
- Do not borrow money from a customer unless the customer's business involves lending money.
- Do not solicit customers for charitable donations.
- Entertain clients only after first receiving approval from your manager.
- Take great pride in your work and enjoy doing your very best.

Confidentiality of Customer Matters

Our professional ethics require that each employee maintain the highest degree of confidentiality when handling customer matters.

To maintain this professional confidence, no employee shall disclose customer information to other customers, friends, or members of one's own family.

Questions concerning customer confidentiality may be addressed with your manager.

Discussions with Customers

When working on an assignment at a customers' site, you may be asked to offer specific suggestions or comments regarding his or her practices. Prior to discussing any suggestions with a customer, your recommendations must first be approved by your manager.

Deviations in Customer Records

Occasionally you may find what appears to be an obvious clerical or mathematical error on the part of the customer. Mistakes of this nature should be brought to the attention of your manager first. When discussing such an error, be certain of the mistake, be careful with whom it is discussed and most importantly, be diplomatic in handling the misunderstanding.

During your career, you may discover or suspect evidence of theft, embezzlement, defalcation, or some other irregular practice on the part of the customer or customer personnel. If such an event occurs, inform your manager immediately. Under no circumstances should you discuss the matter with the customer or customer personnel.

Use of Customer Telephones

When working at a customer's site, keep telephone usage to a minimum. Do not disclose the location and telephone number of your customer assignment to outsiders. Direct all telephone calls to our company to ensure the identities of our customers are protected. Messages will then be relayed to staff members working at the customer's place of business.

Personal calls must be made from outside the customer's site. Incoming personal calls or calls from other customers should be kept to a minimum.

Attendance and Punctuality

Attendance and punctuality are important factors for your success within our company. We work as a team and this requires that each person be on time.

If you are going to be late for work or absent, notify your manager as far in advance as is feasible under the circumstances, but before the start of your workday. Personal issues requiring time away from work, such as doctor's appointments or other matters, should be scheduled during your nonworking hours if possible.

If you are absent for three (3) days without notifying the company, it is assumed that you have voluntarily abandoned your position with the company, and your position will be terminated by the company.

Business Hours

Standard operating days and hours of the Company are Monday through Friday 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. local time ("standard operating workweek"). Regular full-time employees are expected to work a minimum of eight (8) hours per day in a standard operating workweek. Worktime may vary by job. If you have questions about your work time, check with your manager or with the People and Culture Department.

The Company generally expects fulltime employees to begin the workday between 7:30 a.m. and 9:30 a.m. local time. In all cases, an employee should discuss start times with the employee's manager. This creates necessary transparency, aligns expectations, and helps ensure that mutual performance objectives are met. Business circumstances may require an employee to vary from standard worktime when, by way of example but not limitation, an employee takes virtual meetings with colleagues in global time zones.

Meal Periods Non-Exempt Employees

Non-exempt employees receive a ten (10) minute paid rest break for each four hours of consecutive work time or major fraction thereof. Ideally, a rest break will occur near the midpoint of each work period, but scheduling will be done by management to accommodate work needs. Rest breaks should not be used to extend a meal period, work overtime, or leave early.

As long as practical, non-exempt employees are entitled to an uninterrupted and duty-free meal period of at least thirty (30) minutes when their scheduled shifts exceed five consecutive hours of work. Generally, most employees take a one-hour meal period. This break is unpaid. Employees must take all rest breaks and meal periods. They will be relieved of all duties during meal periods and are free to pursue personal activities and leave the premises (although if they do so, they must return on time). Employees traveling on Company business also should be sure to take their rest breaks and meal periods. If an employee is having a problem taking meal periods and rest breaks due to work commitments, the employee should contact People and Culture immediately for assistance so that arrangements can be made to facilitate such breaks. When the nature of the business activity or other circumstances exist that makes an uninterrupted meal period impractical, the employee will be permitted to consume an "on-duty" meal while performing duties. Employees will be permitted to fully consume a meal of choice "on the job" and be fully compensated for the "on-duty" meal period without any loss in compensation.

Additionally, although employees need not record rest breaks, non-exempt employees must record the times they begin and finish all meal breaks. Failure to take appropriate breaks or failure to accurately record meal breaks will result in disciplinary action, including possible discharge.

For all other employees, a 30 to 60-minute, unpaid meal break should be taken each day (in addition to working an 8-hour work day).

Lactation Breaks

The company will provide a reasonable amount of break time to accommodate a female employee's need to express breast milk for the employee's infant child. The break time should, if possible, be taken concurrently with other break periods already provided. Non-exempt employees should clock out for any time taken that does not run concurrently with normally scheduled rest periods, and such time generally will be unpaid in accordance with state law. The company will also make a reasonable effort to provide the employee with the use of a room or other location in close proximity to the employee's work area, for the employee to express milk in private.

Employees should notify the People and Culture office to request time to express breast milk under this policy.

Contact with the Company

The company should know your location at all times during business hours. Your manager keeps a record of your assignments and People and Culture should be notified of your whereabouts outside the company during working hours.

Standards of Conduct

Each employee has an obligation to observe and follow the company's policies and to maintain proper standards of conduct at all times. Violations of these policies will result in disciplinary action up to and including termination. Disciplinary action may include a verbal warning, written warning, suspension with or without pay, and/or termination. The appropriate disciplinary action imposed will be determined by the company. The company does not guarantee that one form of action will necessarily precede another.

Among other things, the following may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination: violation of the company's policies or safety rules; insubordination; unauthorized or illegal possession, use or sale of alcohol or controlled substances on work premises or during working hours, while engaged in company activities or in company vehicles; unauthorized possession, use or sale of weapons, firearms or explosives on work premises; theft or dishonesty; physical harassment; sexual harassment; disrespect toward visitors or other members of the public; performing outside work or use of company property, equipment or facilities in connection with outside work while on company time; poor attendance or poor performance. These examples are not all inclusive. We emphasize that termination decisions will be based on an assessment of all relevant factors.

Computer Software Licensing

The company purchases or licenses the use of various computer software programs. Neither the company nor any of the company's employees have the right to duplicate this computer software or its related documentation. Unauthorized duplication of computer software is a federal offense, punishable by up to $250,000 fine and up to five years in jail.

The company does not condone the illegal duplication of software. You must use the software in accordance with the license agreement. This policy applies not only to individual desktop computers and laptops but to local area networks as well.

Employees learning of any misuse of software or related documentation within the company shall notify a member of management. Employees who reproduce, acquire or use unauthorized copies of computer software will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

Customer and Public Relations

Our company's reputation is built on excellent service and quality work. To maintain this reputation requires the active participation of every employee.

The opinions and attitudes that customers have toward our company may be determined for a long period of time by the actions of one employee. It is sometimes easy to take a customer for granted, but if we do we run the risk of losing not only that customer, but his or her associates, friends or family who may also be customers or prospective customers.

Each employee must be sensitive to the importance of providing courteous treatment in all working relationships.

Solicitation and Distribution

To avoid unnecessary annoyances and work interruptions, solicitation by an employee of another employee is prohibited while either person is on working time.

Employee distribution of literature, including handbills, in work areas is prohibited.

Trespassing, soliciting or distribution of literature by non-employees on these premises is prohibited at all times.

Changes in Personal Data

To aid you and/or your family in matters of personal emergency, we need to maintain up-to-date information.

Changes in name, address, telephone number, marital status, number of dependents or changes in next of kin and/or beneficiaries should be given to People and Culture promptly.

Care of Equipment

You are expected to demonstrate proper care when using the company's property and equipment. No property may be removed from the premises without the proper authorization of management. If you lose, break or damage any property, report it to People and Culture at once.

Travel Procedure

With an ever-increasing number of employees traveling for BEUMER North America, a standard policy has been put into place which will require certain procedures be followed to maintain control over travel and travel costs. This policy is designed to provide guidance about the required procedures and standards applied in approving travel and business expenses by BEUMER and all subsidiaries across North America. Travel related information can also be found on the BEUMER intranet/travel section.

Process for Making Travel Arrangements

BEUMER business travel needs must be authorized by as early as possible. A travel plan request form (TPR) must be completed by each traveler, include cost center/project number, and approved by a manager in order to get set up in the booking system. All travel arrangements must be arranged by the designated Travel Department, there is no web log in possible or bookings to be made on personal/business credit card without approval.

Travel arrangements will be made using cost as a significant criterion. Specifically, flight schedules will be made to allow for low fare flights. When provided the option for a reasonable low-fare option and the employee chooses a flight with a cost differential that is $300 higher than the low-fare option selected/recommended by the Travel Manager, then that employee must obtain approval from the Vice President of their respective department for approval before the flight will be booked. If approval is not granted and the matter remains unresolved, then the Department Manager must obtain approval from the CEO before the flight will be booked. All international travel must be sent to the CEO and/or CFO by the travel department for approval (travel outside of BNA). In instances, when a weekend flight is selected by the Travel Manager for cost purposes only, not due to professional schedules/commitments, and accepted by the employee, the employee will receive comp time accordingly. Please note that comp time is not in addition to compensated "travel time" where/when applicable.

Frequent Traveler Programs will not influence the booking.

A written trip report should be submitted to your manager within one week after making the trip. A copy of this report should be forwarded to the manager and others involved in the project. As a minimum, the report should contain the names and titles of all the people visited and a summary of the discussions.

Standard Process for Reimbursement

Airfare: Travel via airplane, train and/or other public conveyance will be:

- Lowest fare is a primary priority using major carriers (economy).
- Schedules will be a secondary priority in scheduling travel arrangements.
- If there is an option for a requested booking with a fare difference of 20% or at least $200 then the lower amount fare will be chosen--this will also apply to flights with one stop at a maximum of a two-hour layover.
- Baggage Fees will not be the primary reason to select a preferred carrier.
- Upgrading seats for flights will not be reimbursed by the company and should not be charged to the corporate credit card.
- Changes in itineraries based on personal preference are not allowed - flights will be booked based on travel requirements.
- If, and only if, an employee has flown six or more round trip intercontinental flights within the last 12 months, then a business class ticket may be booked as per group policy - the travel department is responsible for maintaining prior 12-month records for each traveler.
- For all business air travel, either an original airline receipt, printed electronic receipt, or a copy of an airline receipt with original boarding pass must be attached.

Hotels: Hotels will be selected for comfort and cleanliness and will be chosen based on:

- Location or proximity to job sites.
- Standard rooms will be booked whenever possible - listed below are the preferred hotels:
 - IHG Hotels, Wyndham, Choice Hotels and Extended Stay America Hotels.
- A full itemized receipt (invoice) should be submitted - credit card charge receipts will not be accepted.
- Hotel rates should be under $125.00 per night - if there are two hotels in the same location as the preferred hotel list/area/address, the less expensive hotel will be booked.

- Phone calls should be made via Teams, Ring Central or your mobile phone - using hotel telephones should be avoided.
- Movie expenses or additional expenses not business related will not be reimbursed by the company.

Tips: The gratuity percentage allowed by the company will be fifteen percent (15%) and must be shown on the receipt. A different percentage will be allowed if the gratuity is already included in the bill.

Meals: The general guidelines for daily meals (when not included as part of hotel daily rate) are: Breakfast $10, Lunch $18, Dinner $27, and incidentals $15. Please note these are general guidelines and do not apply to the High-Low method of expenses. Refer to the High-Low section for these details.

- BEUMER will not allow a deduction for “lavish or extravagant” expenses. An expense is not considered lavish or extravagant if it is reasonable based on the facts and circumstances, so use common sense or your reimbursement may be challenged.
- The items in the meal area should reflect personal meals only. When dining with someone else (outside of BEUMER), the costs should be outlined under “Entertainment” on the expense report.
- Receipts are required to verify the expenses. Please document the business purpose on each receipt.

Alcohol Consumption: If beer or wine is selected for a business dinner, discretion should be exercised so that cost is a factor in the selection process. Alcohol should be consumed only to accompany a business meal. Caution should be used in the amount of alcohol consumed. Over-consumption is considered outside the scope of employment. The Company shall not be liable for inappropriate conduct and incidents arising from an Employee’s consumption of alcohol.

Auto Expenses: Receipts must accompany all expense items claimed. BEUMER will reimburse business use of a personally-owned automobile at the standard mileage rate. The mileage rate will be based on the applicable IRS rate for miles driven while on authorized company business only.

Car Rental: Cost and business efficiency will be the determining factors used in selecting the rental car company as well as when to use a rental car versus using your own personal vehicle. Please see your manager for assistance in making this decision when applicable.

Listed below are the preferred rental car companies:

- Avis and Budget (Primary Preferred Rental Company); National/Enterprise (Secondary Preferred Rental Company), and Sixt.
- The number of cars rented for special events will depend on the number of travelers and travel schedules.

- Car size should be intermediate unless two or more employees are travelling together.
- Our rates in the US already include Liability and Collision insurance with $0 deductible therefore, all other insurances should be DECLINED. In all other rental markets (Canada & rest of the world) insurance is included with a deductible but no need to reduce the deductible to $0.
- For all business auto rentals, it is best to pay using a BEUMER Corporate Credit Card. When you use your personal card, specify to the agent to use YOUR name on the rental agreement followed by the corporate entity name, IE: Mr. John Doe/BEUMER Corporation.
- Fuel expenses will be reimbursed only with receipt.
- GPS rental expenses will not be reimbursed by the company unless during international travel when a company owned GPS is not available.
- The actual cost of toll expenses will be reimbursed - EZ Pass charges on car rentals will not be reimbursed by the company (please see below toll process).
- Frequent flyer credits are not supported by our National Car Rental program - if you receive frequent flyer miles, the company will not reimburse the employee for any surcharges related to frequent flyer miles.
- A rental will be booked when the mileage driven exceeds 200 miles round trip – travel duration will also be under consideration in regard to this policy.

Tolls: Receipts must be submitted for all toll charges claimed.

Parking: Receipts must be submitted for all parking fees (no credit card receipts).

- Airport Parking: When parking at an airport, travelers should use the lowest-cost parking appropriate and available.
- Preferred partner for airport parking: theParkingSpot.
- Partner for off-airport locations: SpotHero.

PPE/work boots/safety shoes: Safety is an utmost priority. Proper PPE will be supplied by the company to those employees that are required to report to site as part of their role. If the position is field based in which work boots/safety shoes are required in order to perform job duties onsite, the Company will reimburse up to $125 per calendar year with proper receipt and manager approval.

Company Vehicles/Business Rental Vehicles

Company vehicles may be provided to certain individuals as a benefit and a perk to conducting business. Employees are held responsible for the safe operation and cleanliness of the vehicle at all times. For some employees, a car allowance has been offered as a benefit which is considered a taxable fringe benefit.

In both cases, employees are expected to comply with proper car etiquette as well as basic rules which are outlined in the Usage of Company Vehicles Policy. Whether you have been offered a company car or a car allowance for business purposes, you must acknowledge this policy. Failure to follow outlined policy will result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.

The company may at any time revoke privileges of a company car and simply choose to offer a car allowance policy. This allowance can be applied to leasing insurance and reasonable operating costs.

Operators of company vehicles are responsible for the safe operation (hands free mobile phone usage/no texting etc.) and cleanliness of the vehicle.

Accidents involving a company vehicle must be reported to your manager and People and Culture immediately.

Employees are responsible for any moving and parking violations and fines that may result when operating a company vehicle.

Company vehicles should be operated by the employee only. Company vehicles may only be used for job-related travel.

Smoking is prohibited in company vehicles. The use of seat belts is mandatory for operators and passengers of company vehicles.

Employees are prohibited from operating company vehicles while using illegal or unauthorized substances. Employees are prohibited from operating company vehicles when the employee uses any controlled substance, except when the use is pursuant to a doctor's orders and the doctor advised the employee that the substance does not adversely affect the employee's ability to safely operate the vehicle.

All employees operating any vehicle owned/leased/rented by the company/in the company's name, must maintain a clean/valid driver's license. If your driver's license is suspended or revoked at any time you must advise People and Culture immediately. Failure to report the loss of driver's license privileges may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.

The company along with our insurance carrier and insurance broker reserve the right to run a motor vehicle check annually or on an as needed basis in accordance with applicable federal and state law.

Expense Reimbursement Process:

Basic guidelines for business expense reimbursements are set by BEUMER and are consistent IRS regulations. The interpretation of these guidelines for corporate use is performed by our accountants. These rules are very specific and must be adhered to in all cases. Below are the options available to employees.

Receipt Reimbursement (default for all):

BEUMER business travel expenses consistent with this policy will be reimbursed to the employee when substantiated with properly documented receipts unless the employee is eligible, and has made an annual election, to participate in the High-Low method. Expenses must be reported on the standard BEUMER Corporation expense reimbursement form, available on the UKG portal. They should be filled out completely and accurately within one week of the travel date.

High-Low Method of Reimbursement:

Employees in Customer Support Service, Site Integration, and AT Departments have the option to make an annual election to participate in the high-low method of reimbursement. The High-low method is for those employees on site for extended periods but less than 12 months. Any on-site duration beyond 12 calendar months must be reviewed on a case-by-case basis. Please verify with your manager if you have any questions about the use of the high-low method or reimbursement selection. Please refer to the High-low Reimbursement Policy for complete details including list of high cost localities.

Relocation Assistance

From time to time, depending on business needs, our company may need to transfer and relocate employees to different geographic areas where we may conduct business. The company may pay for certain relocation expenses. Please contact People and Culture for further details.

Personal Property

The company is not responsible for loss or damage to personal property. Valuable personal items, such as purses and all other valuables should not be left in areas where theft might occur this includes business travel including working off-site, etc.

Visitors

All visitors must first check in at the reception area and sign the “Visitors Register” Log. A visitor pass will be provided and must be worn at all times in the building. Visitors are not allowed in any area of the building without being accompanied by an authorized employee. Under no circumstances will visitors be allowed in confidential, unauthorized, or potentially hazardous areas.

Severe Weather

Severe weather is to be expected during certain months of the year. Except in cases of catastrophic storms, we are all expected to work our regular hours. Time taken off due to poor weather conditions while the business remains open and you are expected to report, is to be used as personal time off or is unpaid.

If extreme weather conditions require closing of the building, you will be notified.

Personal Telephone Calls/Cell Phones/Texting

It is important to keep our telephone lines free for customer calls. Although the occasional use of the company's telephones for a personal emergency may be necessary, routine personal calls should be kept to a minimum.

Personal cellular telephones must be turned off or set to a silent alert during working hours while on company premises, routine personal calls/texting should be kept to a minimum.

Recording of conversations during working hours or on company premises is prohibited and may be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Excessive use of cell phones may include disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Electronic Communications

The Company has established systems that are Internet-connected and will use the Internet to facilitate customer service and otherwise contribute broadly to the mission of the Company.

This Electronic Communications Policy applies to all Users, wherever they may be located and regardless of whether they are accessing the Information Systems through a computer or other device (such as, PDAs, telephones, smartphones, televisions, or any other device used to access the Information Systems) that is provided by the Company or personally owned by the User or any other individual or entity.

Definitions

For purposes of this policy, the term "User" includes without limitation directors, common law employees, including part-time, temporary, seasonal, and other contingent employees, leased employees, independent contractors, volunteers, interns, and trainees of the Company.

Information Systems

For purposes of this policy, the term “Information Systems” or “Information and Communications Systems” refers to all of the Company's electronic networks, electronic devices, computer equipment and hardware, electronic communications, telecommunication networks, and telecommunications equipment licensed, owned, leased, or provided by or to the Company (however structured, including wireless), including, without limitation, servers, computers, software, software accessories, documentation supporting any electronic communications, stored data and files, storage devices (including flash or thumb drives), laptops, handheld computers, PDAs, iPads, tablets, mobile messaging and other telephones, instant messaging platforms, voicemail systems, web pages, Internet, telecommunications equipment, peripheral devices, voicemail, and any data and information contained or processed by such network, e-mail system, Intranet, and access to the Internet.

Permissible Uses of Information Systems, In General

The Information Systems were created and are maintained to facilitate the Company's business, which includes servicing customers. Since the Information Systems are intended primarily for business, Users must use the Information Systems, including e-mail, instant messaging, and access to the Internet, consistent with all other applicable Company policies and legal requirements. All uses of the Information Systems must be in compliance with all software licenses, copyrights, and all other state, federal, and international laws, including those governing intellectual property and online activities. In addition, any use of the Information Systems must be guided by good judgment and the Company's Standards of Conduct.

Users generally may, however, use the Information Systems for incidental personal uses, so long as such use does not interfere with the User's job responsibilities or the job responsibilities of other Users. Excessive personal use during working time is prohibited, as is other usage that may interfere with the Information System's productivity, such as large attachments or audio/video segments.

The following are examples of incidental personal uses of the System:

- Sending and receiving necessary or occasional personal communications;
- Using the telephone system for occasional personal calls; and
- Accessing the Internet for brief personal searches and inquiries, provided that Users adhere to all other usage policies.

Impermissible Uses of the Information Systems

Unless permitted by the Company or required by applicable law, the Information Systems may not be used in ways that would violate law or any Company policy. The following are examples of ways the Information Systems may not be used and activities that may not be performed using the Information Systems:

- To access, store, print, download, process, transmit or communicate material that is fraudulent, harassing, sexually explicit, profane, obscene, intimidating, excessive personal/non-business related or otherwise unlawful, or prohibited by the Company's non-discrimination and non-harassment policies, or any other Company policy. This includes sending such material by way of e-mail, text message, instant message, or other form of electronic communication, or displaying such material;
- To disseminate or store commercial or personal advertisements or solicitations such as fund-raisers, political or religious activities;
- To transmit or post any material in violation of federal, state or other privacy laws;
- To conduct Company business through personal e-mail accounts issued by public e-mail providers such as Google, YAHOO, AOL, etc. All Company business must be conducted through Company-provided email;
- To download or use encryption software without first obtaining permission from the Company;
- To duplicate or use copyrighted materials (including programs, software, files, information, archives, pictures, articles, etc.) without appropriate permission or authority;
- To acquire, possess, trade, or use hardware/software tools on the Information Systems that could be employed to evaluate or compromise system vulnerabilities, without first obtaining written permission from the Company;
- To "hack" or break into any computer, database or network or engage in "snooping" or "pretexting," or to intentionally introduce any computer virus, worm, lock-out or disabling device, or otherwise engaging in purposeful conduct to adversely affect the Information Systems or any other system;
- To engage in activities designed to derive personal commercial gain;
- While representing yourself as being someone else (e.g., sending electronic mail so that it appears to have come from someone else);
- To send, forward, redistribute or reply to "chain" letters;
- To interfere with normal business functions in any way;
- To conduct unauthorized fundraising of any kind;
- To engage in excessive personal use or otherwise use the Information Systems so as to waste or unfairly monopolize resources to the exclusion of others; or
- To download for business or personal use (except as specifically authorized by the Company) any software, including without limitation file-sharing ("peer-to-peer") software (such as LimeWire, BitTorrent or others) or any form of computer programs, utilities, music, videos, screensavers or executable files.

Impermissible Websites

The following are examples of Web site categories that may not be accessed via the Information Systems:

- Sexually explicit adult material (adult content, nudity, sex)
- Gambling
- Illegal web sites
- Information technology related to hacking, proxy avoidance, pretexting, snooping, and/or URL translation
- Militancy or extremist
- Racism or hate
- Violence
- Weapons

The Company may, but is under no obligation to, use software to identify and block from access any inappropriate Internet sites.

Monitoring

The Company has significant business interests for regulating personal usage of the Information Systems and monitoring Users' business and personal communications on the Information Systems, including but not limited to protecting the Company's assets, promoting workplace productivity, protecting Users and customers, and ensuring compliance with applicable laws and Company policies.

At all times, the Company has the right, but not the obligation, to access, monitor, and record Information Systems' usage. There are systems currently in place to record Information Systems' usage, as well as the files, information, and location of all sites accessed by Users. Although limited personal use that does not violate any Company policy or otherwise interfere with job duties is not prohibited in all cases, Users should not expect that such use entitles them to any expectation of privacy in anything that they access, view, create, store, transmit or receive on or through the Information Systems, including any personal messages. This includes instant messaging as well as personal messages sent or received from personal email or similar accounts, such as Yahoo and Google web-based email accounts which may remain, be accessed, or be viewed on the Information Systems and may be retrieved and monitored by the Company.

Use of passwords to gain access to the Information Systems does not mean that Users should have any expectation of privacy in the material that they access, view, create, transmit, store or receive via or on the Information Systems. The Company has the ability to permit IT and other personnel access to all activity on the Information Systems, including without limitation all information and materials accessed, viewed, created, stored on or transmitted through its Information Systems regardless of whether the information or material has been encoded with a

User's password. Further, data may be electronically recalled or recreated regardless of whether it may have been "deleted" or "erased" by a User. Because the Company periodically backs-up all files and messages, and because of the way in which computers re-use file storage space, files and messages may exist that are thought to have been deleted or erased.

The Company has the ability and reserves the right to investigate any and all activity on or through the Information Systems, including without limitation any investigation of information or data composed, transmitted, or received on the Information Systems, consistent with state and federal law, including, but not limited to, monitoring Internet browsing, instant messaging, and personal e-mail. Generally, any such access will be made only by those Company representatives who have a need to know for legitimate business reasons, or when necessary to protect a property right or other legal interest of the Company.

The Company assumes no liability for loss, damage, destruction, alteration, disclosure or misuse of any personal data or communications transmitted over or stored on the Information Systems. The Company accepts no responsibility or liability for the loss or non-delivery of any personal electronic mail or voicemail communications or any personal data stored on the Information Systems. The Company strongly discourages employees from storing any personal data on the Information Systems.

Company Email

The Company does not allow forwarding messages from Company emails to personal email accounts or otherwise outside of the Company's Information Systems. Of course, forwarding emails to customers, business partners and others, as necessary and appropriate to carry out User's assigned job responsibilities are permitted. Consistent with this policy, the Company email address assigned to a User is primarily for business. Distribution of a User's email address should be done with discretion. User's Company email address should not be used to register for personal email subscriptions, fantasy sports teams, or other similar publications or notifications. Distribution of User's Company email address for personal banking, mortgages, billing notifications and other services is discouraged. The sharing of Company email addresses makes the Company susceptible for phishing attempts, spam and other security breaches.

Safeguards/Security

The Company maintains a range of policies and procedures designed to safeguard information that is maintained on the Information Systems, including customer and employee information. Without limiting those policies and procedures which are incorporated herein by reference, below are some best practices Users should be following to help ensure the security of the information on the Information Systems:

Unattended Equipment and Laptop Computers. Users must protect unattended equipment from unauthorized access. For example, workstations should be locked when unattended and active login sessions should be terminated when completed. All laptop computers must be stored in a secure place. Computers and computer equipment may not be taken from the premises without approval of the of your manager.

Accessing Other User's Files. Absent express authorization by the author (as permitted under Company policy) or by the Company, Users may not access, alter or copy any information, data or materials created by another User that is not made generally available on the Information Systems. Users must take all reasonable steps to protect the information with which they are entrusted especially confidential information of the Company which includes, but is not limited to: employee information; health insurance cost and data; affirmative action information; databases and the information contained therein; computer and network access codes and similar or related information; contractual and proprietary information, and research projects and all related information connected with research efforts.

Personal Home Computers and Other Devices. Except as permitted under Company policy, Users should not use their personal home computer or other non-Company portable device (such as, PDAs, telephones, smartphones, flash drives, external hard drives, or any other similar device) to store, retain or archive Company records or documents. Any such records or documents residing on such a device shall at all times remain Company property and must be returned to the Company or discarded in accordance with Company policy. In addition, in order to connect to the Information Systems using such equipment, such as over high-speed home connections (i.e. DSL lines, Cable Modems, etc.), a Company-approved VPN solution must be utilized.

Accessing Other Computers and Networks. A User's ability to connect to other computer systems through the Company network or by a modem (including wirelessly) does not imply a right to connect to those systems or to make use of those systems unless specifically authorized by the Company and/or the owners of those systems. Users entrusted with access to the Company network through laptops using VPN must prohibit use of the Information Systems by anyone other than the User, including family members.

Virus Detection. Viruses can cause substantial damage to computer systems. Users must take reasonable precautions to ensure that they do not introduce or propagate viruses on or through the Information Systems. The Company's Internet connection uses a firewall and proxy protection system designed to protect the Company's internal network. These facilities may block or prevent certain Internet activities, such as unauthorized access. All incoming Internet e-mail, including attachments, will be scanned for viruses. However, new computer virus strains are routinely being created and may penetrate virus-scanning procedures currently in place. Therefore, Users should avoid opening suspicious e-mails or e-mails from unknown sources.

If a User becomes aware of a virus infection or any other security violation (whether internally or from external sources), he or she should immediately contact the VP of People and Culture and/or IT Manager.

Use of Passwords/Access. Users are allowed to access the Information Systems using their unique username and password. Passwords must be developed in accordance with the requirements established by IT and safeguarded by each User. All passwords to the Information Systems must be made available to the VP of People and Culture at all times. Users should not share their username and password with anyone other than the VP of People and Culture. In the event there is a pressing need to share one's username and password, the Users must use extreme caution in allowing anyone, including administrative assistants, to access the Information Systems using the User's unique username and password, such as to access the User's e-mail, instant messaging, voice-mail, or electronic records. Please notify People and Culture if you need to change any password to access the Information Systems.

Discipline

Any violation of this policy by a User may result in the Company limiting or terminating User's privileges concerning the Information System, termination of User's business relationship with the Company, and/or potential legal action against the User. If the User is an employee, any violation of this policy also may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment, in addition to the steps noted in the prior sentence.

Amendments/Modifications

As with all Company policies, the Company reserves the right to amend, modify or discontinue this Policy at any time for any reason. This Policy replaces and supersedes any prior Company policy regarding access to or use of the Information Systems.

Social Media

This Social Media Policy establishes a set of rules and guidelines for activity and participation in "social media" by Company employees. These rules are intended to be adaptable to the changes in technology and norms of online communication and behavior and may be amended by the Company at any time, for any reason, without notice to users.

Nothing contained within this Policy is intended to interfere with employee rights under the National Labor Relations Act, including but not limited to employees' right to discuss the terms and/or conditions of their employment, or other laws protecting lawful job related activities, nor would it be interpreted or applied so as to interfere with employee rights to self-organize, form, join, or assist labor organizations, to bargain collectively through representatives of their choosing, or to engage in other concerted activities for the purpose of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection, or to refrain from engaging in such activities.

For purposes of this Policy:

- The term “social media” applies to any web-based and mobile technologies, in use now or developed in the future, that enable individuals or entities to disseminate or receive information, communicate, or otherwise interact, and includes, without limitation, email, texting, messaging, social networking, blogging, micro-blogging, bulletin boards, and so on, through providers such as Facebook, LinkedIn, Instagram, Twitter, YouTube or others.
- The term “employees” refers to any and all employees of the Company, whether full-time, part-time, or on Company approved leave(s).

Exercise responsibility online

Employees are personally responsible for any of their social media activity conducted with a Company email address or on a Company website or page, and/or which can be traced back to a Company domain, and/or which uses the Company’s Information Systems and/or which expressly or implicitly identifies them as an employee of the Company.

If, from a post in a blog or elsewhere in social media it is clear that the employee is a Company employee, or if the employee mentions the Company, or it is reasonably clear the employee is referring to the Company or a position taken by the Company, and also expresses a political opinion or an opinion regarding the Company’s positions or actions, the post must specifically note that the opinion expressed is the employee’s personal opinion and not the Company’s position. This is necessary to preserve the Company’s good will in the marketplace.

Follow Existing Policies and Terms of Use

Employees must observe and follow (i) existing Company policy and agreements, such as our Employee Handbook and Employment Agreement(s) with the Company, if applicable, (ii) the policies of the particular online/social networking venue, and (iii) applicable law. This means that the employee is prohibited from using social media to post or display comments about coworkers or managers or the Company that are vulgar, obscene, threatening, intimidating, or a violation of the Company’s workplace policies against discrimination, harassment, or hostility on account of age, race, religion, sex, ethnicity, nationality, disability, or other protected class, status, or characteristic. Thus, the rules in the Company’s Employee Handbook, including its Electronic Communications Policy and anti-harassment and discrimination policies apply to employee behavior within social media and in public online spaces.

Most websites, including Facebook and others, have rules concerning the use and activity conducted on their sites. These are sometimes referred to a “Terms of Use”. Employees must follow the established terms and conditions of use that have been established by the venue and not do anything that would violate those rules.

Employee must not post any information or conduct any online activity that may violate applicable local, state, or federal laws or regulations. Any conduct which under the law is impermissible if expressed in any other form or forum is impermissible if expressed through social media.

Be respectful and mindful of privacy and confidentiality, think before posting

Before sharing a comment, post, picture, or video about or from a friend or colleague through any type of social media, it is a good practice to be courteous and first obtain his or her consent.

It also is inappropriate to use or disclose personal information about another individual or use or disclose the Company's confidential or proprietary information in any form of social media. For purposes of this Policy, personal information means an individual's Social Security number, financial account number, drivers' license number, medical information (including family medical history) and other highly sensitive information, as well as information covered by the Company's written information security program. Company confidential or proprietary information includes but is not limited to financial information, future business performance projections and business plans, business and brand strategies, and information which is or relates to Company trade secrets. All Company rules regarding Company confidential or proprietary information and personal information, including the Company's written information security program, apply in full to social media, such as blogs or social networking sites. For example, any information that cannot be disclosed through a conversation, a note, a letter, or an e-mail also cannot be disclosed in a blog, tweet or other social media venue. Sharing this type of information, even unintentionally, can potentially result in harm to the individual, harm to the Company's business, and ultimately you and/or Company being sued by an individual, other businesses, or the government.

Before posting any online material, ensure that the material is not knowingly false; instead, try to be accurate and truthful. If an employee finds that they have made a mistake, admit it, apologize, correct it, and move on. Employees should never post anything that is maliciously false.

Before posting a comment or responding to a blog or other communication in social media, an employee should think before sending. If the employee is unsure about the effects of the post or other online action, reach out to your manager or People and Culture for some assistance, particularly when unsure about a response to another employee or a customer/consumer/follower.

Use your true identity

When participating in any social media, it is better practice to be completely transparent and for the employee to disclose their true identity. Additionally, when commenting on or promoting any Company product or service on any form of social media, the employee must clearly and conspicuously disclose employee's relationship with the Company to the readers or viewers of that communication or activity.

Employees must not use their own personal online relationships or the Company's network to influence polls, rankings, or web traffic. This is called "astroturfing" or "sock-puppeting" and is highly unethical. Employees are not to use the size and breadth of the Company network to unduly influence polls, rankings, or web traffic where said traffic is a measure of success or popularity of a particular political opinion.

Manage your expectation of privacy

Consistent with the Company's Electronic Communications Policy, the Company may access and monitor its Information Systems and obtain the communications within the systems, including email, Internet usage, and the like, with or without notice to users of the system, in the ordinary course of business when we deem it appropriate to do so. As such, when using such systems, employees should have no expectation of privacy with regard to time, frequency, content or other aspect of use, including the websites visited and other Internet/Intranet activity. The reasons the Company accesses and monitors these systems include but are not limited to: maintaining the system; preventing or investigating allegations of system abuse or misuse; assuring compliance with software copyright laws; and complying with legal and regulatory requirements.

Interact on your time

The Company respects the right of any employee to participate in social media, such as maintaining a blog or participating in online forums. However, to protect the Company's interests and to oversee employees' focus on their job duties, employees must avoid excessive use of social media during work time or at any time with the Company's Information Systems, unless doing so is expressly permitted by the Company.

Avoid personal attacks, online fights, and hostile personalities

If a blogger or any other online influencer posts a statement that an employee disagrees with, the employee can voice their opinion, but should not escalate the conversation to a heated, personal argument. The employee should speak reasonably, factually, and with good humor and try to understand and credit the other person's point of view. Additionally, employees should avoid communicating with hostile personalities in an effort to avoid personal, professional, or credibility attacks.

Identify any copyrighted or borrowed material with citations and links

When publishing any online material through social media that includes another's direct or paraphrased quotes, thoughts, ideas, photos, or videos, employees should always use citations and link to the original material where applicable.

Recording Devices

In many jurisdictions, the use of recording devices without the consent of all parties is unlawful. Additionally, in certain situations, using such a device puts confidential customer information and/or the Company's confidential, proprietary information or trade secrets at risk. As such, the use of a recording device (including a cell phone or any other electronic device) at any time to record confidential Company or customer information, or recording in violation of state law, is prohibited.

It is also a violation of Company policy to utilize a recording device during work time.

The Company believes it is best practice not to record conversations unless all parties to the conversation provide prior consent. The purpose of this policy is to protect the privacy interests outlined above, especially those protected by relevant state and federal laws, as well as the privacy rights of other individuals. This policy is also designed to eliminate any chilling effect to the expression of views that may occur when one person is concerned that his or her conversation or actions are being secretly recorded. This concern can inhibit timely and honest dialogue especially when sensitive or confidential matters are being discussed.

Violation of this policy may result in corrective action up to and including termination.

Dress Policy

Employees are expected to maintain the highest standards of personal cleanliness and present a neat, professional appearance at all times.

Our customers' satisfaction represents the most important and challenging aspect of our business. Whether or not your job responsibilities place you in direct customer contact, you represent the company with your appearance as well as your actions. The properly-attired individual helps to create a favorable image for the company, to the public and fellow employees.

On Fridays of every week and only on the company premises, a dress-down code will be in effect. All employees, who are not going to be traveling and/or meeting with clients, will be allowed to wear neat casual clothes. This will not include the wearing of shorts, cutoffs, muscle or "T" shirts, sneakers or any other attire that would reflect badly on the company image.

Personal Hygiene

Maintaining a professional, business-like appearance is very important to the success of our company. Part of the impression you make on others depends on your choice of dress, personal hygiene, and courteous behavior. A daily regimen of good grooming and hygiene is expected of everyone. Please ensure that you maintain good personal hygiene habits. While at work, you are required to be clean, dressed appropriately and well groomed.

Reference Checks

Our company will not honor any oral requests for references. All requests must be in writing and on company letterhead. Generally, we will only confirm our employees' dates of employment, salary history and job title.

Under no circumstances should an employee provide another individual with information regarding current or former employees of our company on behalf of the company. If you receive a request for reference information, please forward it to People and Culture.

Protecting Company Information

Protecting our company's information is the responsibility of every employee, and we all share a common interest in making sure information is not improperly or accidentally disclosed. Do not discuss the company's confidential business with anyone who does not work for us. You may be required to sign a confidentiality, non-compete and/or a nondisclosure agreement as a condition of your employment, in accordance with state and federal law.

All telephone calls regarding a current or former employee's position/compensation with our company must be forwarded to People and Culture.

The company's address should not be used for the receipt of personal mail.

Conflict of Interest/Code of Ethics

A company's reputation for integrity is its most valuable asset and is directly related to the conduct of its officers and other employees. Therefore, employees must never use their positions with the company, or any of its customers, for private gain, to advance personal interests or to obtain favors or benefits for themselves, members of their families or any other individuals, corporations or business entities.

The company adheres to the highest legal and ethical standards applicable in our business. The company's business is conducted in strict observance of both the letter and spirit of all applicable laws and the integrity of each employee is of utmost importance.

Employees of the company shall conduct their personal affairs such that their duties and responsibilities to the company are not jeopardized and/or legal questions do not arise with respect to their association or work with the company.

Outside Employment

We hope that you will not find it necessary to seek additional outside employment. However, if you are planning to accept an outside position, you must notify People and Culture in writing.

Outside employment must not conflict in any way with your responsibilities within our company. You may not work for competitors nor may you take an ownership position with a competitor.

Employees may not conduct outside work or use company property, equipment, or facilities in connection with outside work while on company time.

Parking

Free parking facilities are available to employees. You are required to park within the designated areas. If a space is marked handicapped, reserved or guests, please refrain from parking in the spots. The company is not responsible for loss, damage, or theft of your vehicle. Therefore, we suggest that you lock your car doors.

Bulletin Board

Information of interest and importance to you is regularly posted on our bulletin board. We suggest that you look at it regularly. This bulletin board is for administrative use only; employees may not post or remove any information without receiving prior approval from People and Culture.

Lunch Room

A lunch room is available for your use. Although the company provides general custodial care, you are expected to clean up after eating. This room should be kept clean for the next person's use.

Contact with the Media

All media inquiries regarding the company and its operations must be referred to the CEO. Only the CEO is authorized to make or approve public statements on behalf of the company. No employees, unless specifically designated by the CEO, are authorized to make statements on behalf of or as a representative of the company.

Office Supplies

Our company maintains a stock of basic office supplies such as pens, paper clips, staples, note pads, etc. to be used on a day-to-day basis by employees.

All office supplies are for business use only and should not be removed from the office for non-business use. Violations of this policy may result in disciplinary action up to and including discharge.

Town Hall Meetings and Department Meetings

On occasion, we may request that you attend a company-sponsored meeting. Also, from time to time, your manager will schedule department meetings before, during, or after work. It's to your advantage to be at these meetings. They will give you and your fellow workers a chance to receive information on BEUMER events, to review problems and possible solutions, and to make suggestions about your department or your job.

If a meeting is scheduled during your regular working hours, your attendance is required. If your attendance at a meeting held outside of normal working hours is mandatory, you will be informed in writing. Failure to attend may lead to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Charitable Contributions

The company may make donations to worthwhile charities in its own name.

Contributions may only be made in communities where our employees benefit from these contributions. We make no contributions to organizations where such contributions will only benefit the members of that organization. The general rule is that the cause must be for the good of the entire community. All decisions concerning contributions are made by the CEO. The company does not exceed its budgeted allowance for contributions.

Please make others aware of this policy should you be asked to solicit the company for contributions that do not meet these standards.

If You Must Leave Us

Should you decide to leave your employment with us, we ask that you provide your manager with at least two weeks' advance notice. Your thoughtfulness is appreciated and will be noted favorably should you ever wish to reapply for employment with the company.

Employees, who are rehired following a break in service in excess of one year, other than an approved leave of absence, must serve a new initial introductory period whether or not such a period was previously completed. Such employees are considered new employees from the effective date of their reemployment for all purposes, including the purposes of measuring benefits.

Generally, we will confirm upon request our employees' dates of employment, salary history and job title.

Additionally, all resigning employees may be requested to complete a brief exit interview prior to leaving. All company property, including this Employee Handbook, must be returned upon termination. Otherwise, the company may take action to recoup any replacement costs and/or seek the return of company property through appropriate legal recourse.

You should notify People and Culture if your address changes during the calendar year in which termination occurs so that your tax information will be sent to the proper address.

Safety in the Workplace

Each Employee's Responsibility

Safety can only be achieved through teamwork at our company. Each employee, manager and member of management must practice safety awareness by thinking defensively, anticipating unsafe situations, and reporting unsafe conditions immediately.

Please observe the following precautions:

- Notify your manager or People and Culture of any emergency situation. If you are injured or become sick at work, no matter how slightly, you must inform your manager or People and Culture immediately.
- The use of alcoholic beverages or illegal substances during working hours will not be tolerated. The possession of alcoholic beverages or illegal substances on the company's property is forbidden.
- Use, adjust, and repair machines and equipment only if you are trained and qualified.
- Know the proper lifting procedures. Get help when lifting or pushing heavy objects.
- Understand your job fully and follow instructions. If you are not sure of the safe procedure, don't guess; just ask your manager.
- Know the locations, contents and use of first aid and firefighting equipment.
- Comply with OSHA standards and/or applicable state job safety and health standards as written in our Safety Procedures Manual.
- When you leave company premises, make sure that all entrances are properly locked and secured.
- In case of a threat and/or actual emergency, follow the direction of the authorities including the facility manager and law enforcement.

A violation of a safety precaution is in itself an unsafe act. A violation may lead to disciplinary action, up to and including discharge.

Workplace Violence

Violence by an employee or anyone else against an employee, manager or member of management will not be tolerated. The purpose of this policy is to minimize the potential risk of personal injuries to employees at work and to reduce the possibility of damage to company property in the event someone, for whatever reason, may be unhappy with a company decision or action by an employee or member of management.

If you receive or overhear any threatening communications from an employee or outside third party, report it to People and Culture immediately. Do not engage in either physical or verbal confrontation with a potentially violent individual. If you encounter an individual who is threatening immediate harm to an employee or visitor to our premises, contact an emergency agency (such as 911) immediately.

All reports of work-related threats will be kept confidential to the extent possible, investigated and documented. Employees are expected to report and participate in an investigation of any suspected or actual cases of workplace violence and will not be subjected to disciplinary consequences for such reports or cooperation.

Violations of this policy, including your failure to report or fully cooperate in the company's investigation, may result in disciplinary action, up to and including discharge.

Emergency Evacuation Drills

Emergency evacuation drills are scheduled periodically throughout the year. These drills are an important aspect in employee safety. We expect your complete cooperation during these drills. If you have any questions concerning evacuation procedures, see your manager.

Workplace Searches

To protect the property and to ensure the safety of all employees, customers and the company, the company reserves the right to conduct personal searches consistent with state law, and to inspect any packages, parcels, purses, handbags, brief cases, lunch boxes or any other possessions or articles carried to and from the company's property. In addition, the company reserves the right to search any employee's office, desk, files, locker, equipment or any other area or article on our premises. In this regard, it should be noted that all offices, desks, files, lockers, equipment, etc. are the property of the company, and are issued for the use of employees only during their employment. Inspection may be conducted at any time at the discretion of the company.

Persons entering the premises who refuse to cooperate in an inspection conducted pursuant to this policy may not be permitted to enter the premises. Employees working, entering, or leaving the premises who refuse to cooperate in an inspection, as well as employees who after the inspection are believed to be in possession of stolen property or illegal substances, will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination, if upon investigation they are found to be in violation of the company's security procedures or any other company rules and regulations.

Good Housekeeping

Good work habits and a neat place to work are essential for job safety and efficiency. You are always expected to keep your place of work organized and materials in good order. Report anything that needs repair or replacement to your manager.

No Weapons in the Workplace

Possession, use or sale of weapons, firearms or explosives on work premises, while operating company machinery, equipment or vehicles for work-related purposes or while engaged in company business off premises is forbidden except where expressly authorized by the company and permitted by state and local laws.

This policy applies to all employees, including but not limited to, those who have a valid permit to carry a firearm. This policy does not apply to firearms stored in the employee's locked motor vehicle.

Employees who are aware of violations or threats of violations of this policy are required to report such violations or threats of violations to People and Culture immediately.

Violations of this policy will result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

In an Emergency

The CEO should be notified immediately when an emergency occurs. Emergencies include all accidents, medical situations, bomb threats, other threats of violence, and the smell of smoke. If the CEO is unavailable, contact the nearest company official.

Should an emergency result in the need to communicate information to employees outside of business hours, each employee will be contacted. Therefore, it is important that employees keep their personal emergency contact information up to date. Notify People and Culture when this information changes.

When events warrant an evacuation of the building, you should follow the instructions of the CEO or any other member of management. You should leave the building in a quick and orderly manner. You should assemble at the pre-determined location as communicated to you by your manager to await further instructions or information.

Please direct any questions you may have about the company's emergency procedures to People and Culture and or the Quality Manager.

Substance Abuse

The company has vital interests in ensuring a safe, healthy, and efficient working environment for our employees, their co-workers and the customers we serve. The unlawful or improper presence or use of controlled substances or alcohol in the workplace presents a danger to everyone. For these reasons, we have established as a condition of employment and continued employment with the company the following substance abuse policy.

Employees are prohibited from reporting to work or working while using or being under the influence of illegal or unauthorized substances. Employees are prohibited from reporting to work or working when the employee uses any controlled substance, except when the use is pursuant to a doctor's orders and the doctor advised the employee that the substance does not adversely affect the employee's ability to safely perform his or her job duties.

In addition, employees are prohibited from engaging in the unlawful or unauthorized manufacture, distribution, transfer, sale or possession of illegal or unauthorized substances and alcohol in the workplace including: on company paid time, on company premises, in company vehicles, or while engaged in company activities. Our employees are also prohibited from reporting for duty or remaining on duty with any alcohol in their systems. Employees are further prohibited from consuming alcohol during working hours, including meal and break periods. This does not include the authorized use of alcohol at company-sponsored functions or activities.

Your employment or continued employment with the company is conditioned upon your full compliance with the foregoing substance abuse policy. Any violation of this policy may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination. Furthermore, any employee who violates this policy and is subject to termination, may be permitted in lieu of termination, at the company's sole discretion, to participate in and successfully complete an appropriate treatment, counseling or rehabilitation program as recommended by a substance abuse professional as a condition of continued employment and in accordance with applicable federal, state, and local laws.

Consistent with its fair employment policy, the company maintains a policy of non-discrimination and reasonable accommodation with respect to recovering addicts and alcoholics, and those having a medical history reflecting treatment for substance abuse conditions. We encourage employees to seek assistance before their substance or alcohol use renders them unable to perform their essential job functions or jeopardizes the health and safety of themselves or others. The company will attempt to assist its employees through referrals to rehabilitation, appropriate leaves of absence and other measures consistent with the company's policies and applicable federal, state or local laws.

The company further reserves the right to take any and all appropriate and lawful actions necessary to enforce this substance abuse policy including, but not limited to, the inspection of company issued lockers, desks or other suspected areas of concealment, as well as an employee's personal property when the company has reasonable suspicion to believe that the employee has violated this substance abuse policy.

This policy represents management guidelines. For more information, please speak to People and Culture

Receipt of Employee Handbook and Employment –At-Will Statement

This is to acknowledge that I have received a copy of the BEUMER Employee Handbook and understand that it sets forth the terms and conditions of my employment as well as the duties, responsibilities and obligations of employment with the company. I understand and agree that it is my responsibility to read the Employee Handbook and to abide by the rules, policies and standards set forth in the Employee Handbook.

I also acknowledge that my employment with BEUMER is not for a specified period of time and can be terminated at any time for any reason, with or without cause or notice, by me or by the company. I acknowledge that no oral or written statements or representations regarding my employment can alter the foregoing. I also acknowledge that only the CEO has the authority to enter into an employment agreement—expressed or implied—providing for employment other than at-will.

I also acknowledge that, except for the at-will employment relationship, the company reserves the right to revise, delete and add to the provisions of this Employee Handbook. No oral statements or representations can change the provisions of this Employee Handbook. I also acknowledge that, except for the at-will employment relationship, terms and conditions of employment with the company may be modified at the sole discretion of the company, with or without cause or notice, at any time. No implied contract concerning any employment-related decision, term of employment or condition of employment can be established by any other statement, conduct, policy or practice.

I understand that the foregoing agreement concerning my at-will employment status and the company's right to determine and modify the terms and conditions of employment is the sole and entire agreement between me and BEUMER concerning the duration of my employment, the circumstances under which my employment may be terminated and the circumstances under which the terms and conditions of my employment may change. I further understand that this agreement supersedes all prior agreements, understandings and representations concerning my employment with the company.

I am aware that during the course of my employment confidential information will be made available to me, for example, financial, technical, customer, supplier, marketing, product designs, pricing and other compilations of data and/or strategy information. I understand that this information is critical to the success of BEUMER and must not be given out or used outside of BEUMER's premises or with non-BEUMER employees. In the event of termination of employment, whether voluntary or involuntary, I hereby agree not to utilize or exploit this information, either for my own benefit or for the benefit of any other individual or company, and to return all BEUMER documents to the company's management.

If I have questions regarding the content or interpretation of this Employee Handbook, I will bring them to the attention of People and Culture.
